Space Age A Real Hep Ball...

By Women's Editor

When Deidre Deb prepares for the Winter Ball in 1971, she'll choose a gown of synthetic gold tastefully trimmed with sparkling minerals imported from the moon.

Her evening wrap will be lined with ermine and on her feet she will wear fur boots over her evening slippers, slippers wider and larger than the debs wore back in 1959.

Deidre will need the warm wraps, for her escort will call for her in his custom helicopter, landing on the helicopter port of Deidre's modern mansion promptly at 9 p.m.

Ruth, the robot will dress Deidre's hair, prepare her flowers and hand her the wraps and accessories. Ruth the robot does well as a lady's maid, but really excels in vacuuming the lush carpets in the mansion.

Ruth is assisted in caring for the mansion by Jasper, the Jet Butler, and Sam, the sonic handyman.

Actually there is little to do. Meals consist of attractively shaped and colored concentrated food and vitamin capsules and pills. Appetites are stimulated by the tempting odor of fresh coffee, broiling steak or chocolate steam pudding.

Deidre's mother selects the odor desired on a scent selector, then the automatic aroma dispenser does the rest.

Holiday parties are not for the mansions alone, but even in the more modest homes there is little for the hostess to do other than look attractive and spread good cheer.

Built-in ranges and ovens, so popular years ago, have been replaced by built-in food pill dispensers and automatic aroma machines with built-in scent selectors.

Where the old-fashioned ironingboard was stored in a wall recess, one now finds the mechanical man that comes with every new home built in the area.

Babysitting is an antiquated word that was coined years ago to fit a problem many young couples found harassing back in the fifties.

Specially designed lapel (for men) or bouquet (for women) two-way matchbook size televiewers with radio have eliminated the need for babysitters.

Electronically connected with the built-in mechanical man, parents can care for their children from great distances, knowing that in an emergency the family's 'copter will get them home in a jiffy.

There's the usual hue and cry about this generation's children and the traumas found due to pushbutton rearing, but on the whole the kids are decent young Americans.

Yes, there are many advantages to the leisure hours provided for today's women by our world of automation. No frazzled nerves due to an overdose of little ones, no kitchen drudgery, just pure concentration on being an entirely feminine woman.

Women in the Sun today are more beautiful than ever. All hail the lovely world of the seventies!

$487 Million Construction Program on Roads Finished

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors was informed Tuesday that $487 million in road projects throughout the county had been completed since the 1960 road bond election.

The road bond issue was based on the Tudor Engineering Report of 1958 and the initial bond issue in 1960 laid the foundation for ground work for a system of freeways, expressways and major streets for the county.

Among the completed projects are Danville Highway from the county line to Olympic Boulevard, Danville Highway from Olympic Boulevard to Pleasant Hill and the Pleasant Hill-Martinez freeway including the Martinez-Benicia Bridge.

Two new segments of the Diablo Freeway, Grove Shafter Second Broadway Tunnel and Pleasant Hill to Bailey Road were completed during the 10 years following the passage of the bond issue.

Bollinger Boulevard expressway from Orinda to St. Mary's and thence to San Ramon was completed with state and county road funds.

Among other road projects in the central county planned and constructed were the Moraga Cutoff Expressway, Burton Alamo Expressway, Sanko Freeway, Pleasant Hill Expressway, Cummings Skyway, Pleasant Hill Bypass Expressway Taylor Boulevard Expressway Pleasant Hill Expressway, John Muir Expressway, Ygnacio Valley Freeway, O'Hara Expressway, Pleasant Hill Freeway.

Traffic counts were also reported to the supervisors.

On the Danville Highway from Olympic Boulevard to the county line 21,000 cars a day are using the four lane divided road.

Some 124,000 cars a day use the Diablo Freeway from Boulvard Way in Walnut Creek to the tunnels.

Another 50,000 cars use the Shepherd Canyon Freeway Route to get to east and west bay cities.

The Las Nueces Freeway from Pleasant Hill to Walnut Creek was used by 32,000 motorists in a one day period.

Thursday the supervisors will hear reports from the Citizens Advisory Committee on Roads on plans for future county road needs and methods of financing.

The recent completion of State and Federal projects in the county including the Corps of Engineers Flood Control program on Walnut Creek channel will also be under discussion.

Charter Presentation to Highlight Council Meet

The largest town council audience is expected Monday night when Larinda's town charter will be presented by a representative of the California Secretary of State's office.

The charter will be accepted by Mayor Arthur L. Robson on behalf of the first Larinda Town Council. Other councilmen include Richard Bartle, Vic Kingston, Orvall Sutton and William Zion.

MAYOR ROBSON said the meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at Town Hall.

Acceptance of the charter will climax a three-year effort on the part of community leaders in the former unincorporated towns of Lafayette and Orinda to unify the communities and form one large incorporated town.

Incorporation of Larinda was approved by a large majority of voters in the new city, but only after two attempts at incorporation in each of the communities of Lafayette and Orinda were soundly defeated at the polls.

LAFAYETTE VOTERS balloted three-to-one against incorporation in October, 1959, and the municipal issue lost by a two-to-one margin there in June, 1963.

The first attempt at incorporation in the Orinda area was made in 1956, but a sufficient number of protests were lodged at that time to keep the issue off the ballot. In 1962, the incorporation issue went to a vote in Orinda, but voters balloted three-to-one against it.

According to the secretary of state's office, the chartering population of the Town of Larinda is 46,500, entitling the city to more than $750,000 annually in state and federal subventions.

COUNCILMEN ARE also expected to consider the possible acquisition of property in the Charles Hill or Acalanes Road areas for future location of a

Cancer Society Is Looking for Something to Do

The local office of the American Cancer Society is looking for something to do!

That's the word today from Mrs. Helen G. MacFarlane, executive secretary of the society.

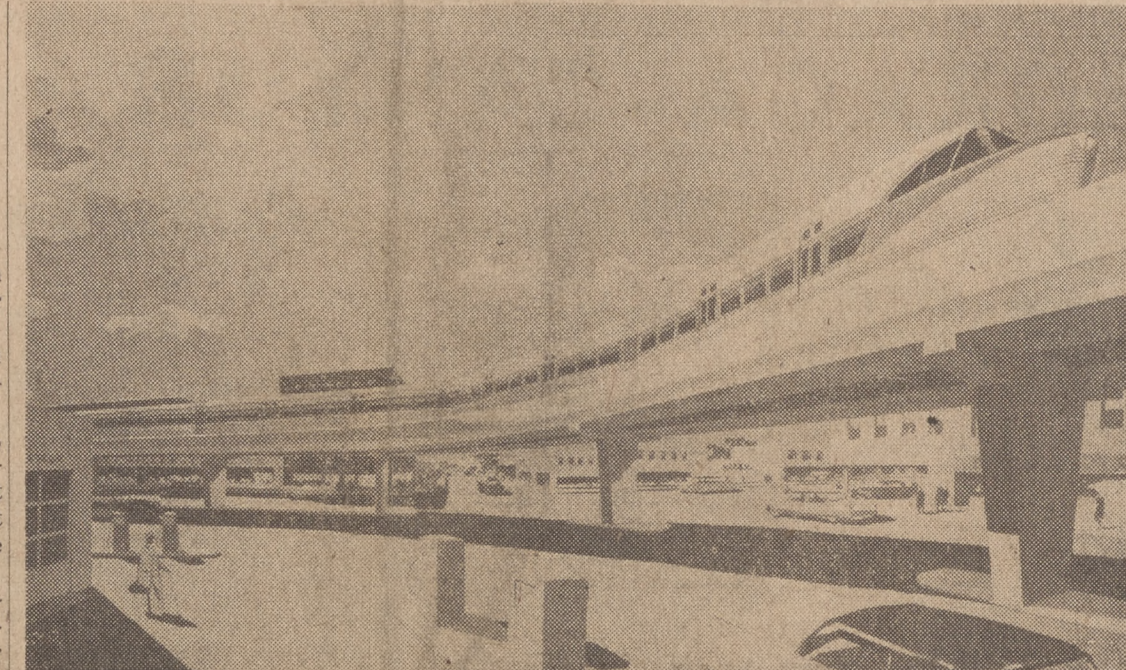

"Since they've licked cancer, we're out of a job," she commented. "Of course, we're not complaining, you understand. It has taken long enough to find the solution."

"BUT WE DO have a fine organization, and there is no reason why we shouldn't turn our abilities toward fighting some other disease, just as the March of Dimes was geared for the fight against other diseases after polio was licked way back in 1959."

"The new combination of pills and shots, started in 1968, seems to have worked beautifully, and the incidence of new cancer has fallen off to the point that it would appear unnecessary for us to continue strictly as an organization to fight cancer."

"AT PRESENT," she continued, "the national board is investigating other fields which could use the administrative talent and the organization which has grown over the years in the successful fight against cancer."

Mrs. MacFarlane also noted that the local cancer society unit would continue to function in an advisory capacity, urging 100 per cent cooperation of residents of Contra Costa County to get their cancer shots without delay.

COMMUTERS FROM Central Contra Costa County are expressing joy unbounded as they gleefully board trains like this one which have become a familiar sight in the area during the past two years. This is one of the new rapid transit coaches installed just for commuters by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District Board. An example of the service provided by these trains is the fact that it now takes a Walnut Creek commuter just 21 minutes to get to San Francisco.

Accidents Snarl Commute Traffic On Shepherd Rte.

Two accidents snarled traffic on the eight-lane Shepherd Canyon Freeway yesterday morning for 30 minutes, but units of the California Highway and Airline Patrol cleared the wreckage and funneled motorists through the Shepherd Canyon Tunnel.

A drinking driver caused havoc early Wednesday morning when his late model sedan slammed into a slow moving milk truck on the Bollinger Boulevard Expressway.

Thousands of gallons of milk turned the newly-paved roadway into a white fairyland.

Meanwhile, on the O'Hara Expressway Olympic Boulevard and Taylor Boulevard between Pleasant Hill Road and Contra Costa Highway traffic delays were reported during the week caused by traffic accidents.

Realtors Total 760; Challenges Of 1960's Met

During the past 10 years, Contra Costa Real Estate Board members have increased from about 400 to 800 salesmen and 123 to about 160 brokers, keeping pace with the "Soaring 60's."

During this time, they have handled the purchase and sales of thousands of new homes, which have also increased about one half, and members continue to serve older home owners as their requirements for "living space" change.

Wayne Bailey, board executive manager for 16 years, this week reviewed the 1960-70 period, and pointed to the development of the Moraga-Rheem area, Ygnacio Valley, Clayton Valley, and San Ramon Valley.

THE BOARD has kept pace with the new era, constantly raising the requirements for admission to membership, he said.

In the board's 54th year, it has developed a complete education program, and pursued it to the point that every member, broker and salesman has thorough familiarity with its phases.

Many of the courses are taught on the college level, and appropriate degrees are awarded.

Dateline 1970... A Gag, but There's Truth Here Too!

Central Contra Costa County—December 31, 1970... that's the dateline that belongs over each of the stories you see on this page.

Of course it's a gag... but there is a lot of truth in the joke, too, because you'll find that all the figures—population, growth, etc., used in these stories are based on the growth projections of reliable firms and individuals.

For instance, such documents as the Tudor Report on freeways and expressways, prepared for the county, and the Brown and Caldwell report prepared for the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District have been used.

This is just to give you an idea of what your front page may look like 10 years from now. Have fun with it... the Sun staff did!

Fire Protection Authority Discussed by Co. Warden

Contra Costa's Fire Marshal outlined plans yesterday indicating the possible merger of the Contra Costa Consolidated Fire Protection District with the proposed Nine Bay Area County Regional Fire Protection and Prevention Authority.

The Fire Marshal who also acts as the county's Fire Warden, commented to the county's board of fire commissioners that the area wide program could well solve some of this county's boundary problems.

"Just as consolidation of the county's many fire protection districts nearly five years ago brought about great savings to the taxpayers, so will a regional system effect similar savings, he stressed.

"When this county was emerging from its cow country days and becoming a major metropolitan center, it became obvious to many that consolidation was the only answer to Contra Costa's many fire problems.

Now, the eternal fire problems of many of the nine Bay Area County's fire problems are solved, but there are areas of concern along boundaries of the county. If an overall authority were permitted to take jurisdiction out of the hands of the county fire district, then ultimate planning could be achieved," he continued.

The present consolidation system in the county is based on legislation passed in the 1963 session of the state legislature. Similar measures were proposed during the 1959 session of the legislature, but were defeated.

The proposed nine county fire protection and prevention authority will be under discussion during the 1971 session of the state legislature.

Plans Announced For 40th School

Trustees of the Acalanes Unified School District have approved preliminary plans for construction of the district's 40th school facility prior to the school year of 1971-72.

The district presently has 37 schools, and trustees approved plans for three additional locations at their meeting at the district offices Monday night.

ACCORDING TO Superintendent James Lewis, the trustees' approval means the district will show a growth of eight school buildings since all of the elementary school districts joined with the Acalanes High School District in the unification in 1962.

Lewis said that all three of the new schools will be elementary facilities, and that two will be located in the Larinda area and one in Walnut Creek.

Joseph Sheaff, assistant superintendent for the Larinda schools, said population increases there have required additional classroom space for about 800 students. When Larinda was incorporated last November, there was a total of 19 schools within the community—10 in Lafayette and 9 in Orinda, Sheaff said.

HE POINTED OUT the necessity for a kindergarten through sixth grade school in the newly developed area northeast of Sleepy Hollow and one just east and south of the Crossroads.

The new Walnut Creek area school is to be constructed near the John Muir Memorial Hospital on Ygnacio Valley Road, according to Lewis.

The Bioness High School was completed a year ago, and the first freshman class began there this fall.

Commuters Will Be Able To Use 200 Seat Planes

The final link in the chain of rapid transit serving commuters and residents of Central Contra Costa County was welded into place today as the first helicopter load of executives took off from the newly completed heliport at Buchanan Field.

Serving as an auxiliary service to the rapid transit ground system linking the five bay-area counties through the recently completed tunnel under San Francisco Bay, the new helicopter service will provide high-speed transportation between such widely separated points as San Jose, San Francisco, Buchanan Field and Marin County.

Envisioned by a group of far-sighted industrial and civic leaders as far back as 1960, the present system has been developed in the fantastically short time of only ten years.

THE TRANS-BAY tunnel, built at a cost of $115 million, was completed only four years after a bond issue was authorized by voters of the five Bay Area counties.

But even the high-speed trains, which whisk residents from Walnut Creek to San Francisco in only 21 minutes, proved to be unable to cope with the tremendous need by commuters and residents for fast direct transportation.

Faced with the fact that even the most modern ground system was unable to handle the peak load of commuter traffic, the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission last year authorized a complete study by Parsons, Brinkerhoff, Hall, Tudor-Bechtel MacDonald to ascertain the feasibility of helicopter commute service between widely spaced key points in the five-county area.

BUCHANAN FIELD proved the obvious terminus to serve Contra Costa County and is the first of the new heliport network facilities to be completed.

Major terminal facilities in San Francisco, although being used, are still having the finishing touches put on escalators and moving ramps to handle the thousands of commuters expected to swamp the heliport commute service.

The major bottleneck in the rapid transit system occurred when trains, traveling at 70 miles per hour and better, could only be scheduled so close because of the safety factor.

Adding additional cars eventually reached a point of diminishing returns, a rapid transit spokesman explained, as the effectiveness of the trains diminished and the difficulty of loading and unloading passengers at terminals became complicated by the length of the trains.

The obvious answer was the heli-transport service which has just been installed.

ALTHOUGH SCHEDULES are not yet permanently set, it is planned to run 200 passenger commute helicopters on five minute schedules during the rush hours, thus accommodating an additional 2400 commuters per hour at the peak rush.

Commuters will find that transportation to and from the heliport will provide no problems as the feeder lines installed to serve the rapid transit system are easily adapted to the specialized traffic added by this auxiliary service.

But the eventual service provided by a rapid transit system can best be judged by the reaction of the people using it day in and day out. Here are some of the opinions of commuters who evaluated the new service on trial runs.

Said Walter Bixby, 1303 Ruth Drive, Pleasant Hill: "Tremendous. It used to take me some 28 minutes from my station in Pleasant Hill—actually 37 minutes from my home if you include the time on the feeder bus—and now I can make it in an even 22 minutes, including the trip to the heliport."

I'LL MISS the card game we had on the train—there isn't as much room in the 'copter—but I guess I can get along without it for the added convenience."

"Couldn't be better," commented veteran commuter Peter Shultz of Lafayette. "I remember the days when they were still building the addition to the Broadway low-level tunnel and the only transportation we had out here was automobile."

"If you tried to commute then, you wouldn't be able to do anything these days but walk around with a smile on your face thinking about this new service."

"Heck, I used to get home long after dark—spent most of my time sitting on the road cursing the other darn fools driving ca.s. Now I get home 18 minutes after I leave the office. My wife likes it too, and I get to spend a little time with the kids."

JOHN SHIBOZIAN of Orinda commented that he "just went along for the ride." He added, "I think I'll stick with the train, because it takes me almost as long to get from Orinda to Buchanan Field as it does to hop the train and get to San Jose where I work at Food Machinery. Still, I might take the 'copter sometime just for kicks. Actually, it will be of more use to my wife and the kids when they went to come down and have lunch with me. The kids love it, and it is more of a novelty to them than the old trains were."

If the requests for monthly commute books which have poured into the transit district office is any indication of the response the new helicopter system will receive from the commuting public, then its success is assured.

ALTHOUGH COMMUTE books have not yet been printed, Mrs. Jean Wozzell, head of the ticket and commute department, noted that the IBM machines are "completely loaded" with applications from present train commuters.

"Reminds me of the first rush we got with commute books when the trains went into service two years ago," she smiled. "But I guess we'll handle this about the same way."

Laughingly she added, "I just hope one of the machines doesn't make another mistake, like that last time."

She was referring to the case of the Walnut Creek commuter, who, when he received his commute book, didn't look at it. He was shunted onto a direct-car which was coupled to another train in San Francisco and ended up in Novato before he knew it.

Youth Concerts Directors Plan Lunch

The directors of the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts will hold a dessert, Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the Nut Bowl, Pleasant Hill. They will kick-off the final sale of the tickets for the next concert series. Businessmen of the area, members of the press and school chairmen will be the guests.

Leslie Pauli, a piano pupil of Tanya Ury, will play two selections of Chopin. They are "Grand Waltz in E Flat" and "Revolutionary Etude."

Leslie is eleven years old, lives in Lafayette and attends Stanley School.

Earlier in the fall, the Central Contra Costa Youth Concerts held a mail order drive. This was quite successful. A few tickets remain.

The 1960 concert series program is as follows: January 17, San Francisco Symphony Orchestra; February 1, Alec Templeton; March 6, The Laubins; and April 3, The Roger Wagner Chorale.

The concerts are all held on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 at Las Lomas High School Auditorium. The price of a concert series ticket is $3.50 for adult or child.

According to the American Cancer Society, lung cancer is and for many years has been the nation's most rapidly increasing lethal disease.

Alert Boy Finds Money Bag From $1600 Burglary

An alert 12-year-old Lafayette boy provided sheriff's deputies with another link in the $1600 burglary of a Lafayette drug store early this month.

Roger L. Boyer, 3685 West Road, was returning from his rounds delivering the San Francisco Examiner, early Sunday spotted a money bag in a culvert near the Hillside Motel.

Roger took the bag home and called sheriff's deputies. Detective Harold Hobert, who is in charge of the investigation, inspected the 46 checks found within the bag with Sheriff's Deputy W. A. Wadlock.

Michaels Will Moderate Panel

Arnold Michaels, Grodin's of California, Oakland, and a vice-president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, will be a panel moderator at the Association's 42nd annual convention at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, February 21 - 25.

He will direct the panel on "Mechanics of Running a Store," which will discuss merchandising figures including budgets, open-to-buy, how to set up the store, examining costs and how to reduce them, the problem of alterations.

Described as the "most important annual event in the men's wear industry," the convention is expected to be the biggest in the near 50 year history of the association and expects over 5,000 men's wear retailers from all parts of the nation.

RHEEM WILL BE THE location of the fifth high school of the Acalanes Union High School District. The ultra modern plant will be located on Jonas Hill Road just north of the Rheem Shopping Center. The view is looking north toward Lafayette.

Last of Pistol Whip Mob Nabbed By Chicago PD

With arrest of Richard Dublinsky, 27, of Oakland, in Chicago, roundup of all three suspected members of a Bay Area pistol-whipping bandit trio was believed by Contra Costa authorities to be completed.

Dublinsky, an ex-convict, was nabbed by Chicago police yesterday. He headed for the Midwest after last week's robberies at the Shillalah Cafe in Lafayette and The Village in Richmond which totaled some $4000 in loot and where a dozen persons were brutally slugged.

Held by Contra Costa authorities is Mrs. Corrine Wieland, 22, who was turned over to them last Friday by Oakland police. Larkin Murrell, 31, also an ex-convict, is being held in Oakland on a charge of assault with intent to kill police officer Stanley Vares.

Murrell and Mrs. Wieland were arrested in downtown Oakland at an amusement center, where Murrell was slugging the tattoo shop concessionaire with his gun.

Mrs. Wieland told officers that she, Murrell and Dublinsky staged 10 armed robberies since last May.

Prizes Await 1960's First Baby in Orinda, Moraga

If you're planning to have a baby within the next few days there are a galaxy of prizes awaiting him or her—and Mother, too—if the New Arrival is the first child born in this area in 1960.

Orinda, Moraga and Rheem merchants have joined in assembling Prince and Princess size bundles of gifts with which to welcome the first addition to the census count of this community for the New Year.

He or she, of course, will be much more than a numerical figure to the storekeepers who plan such a warmly wholehearted homecoming party.

THE FIRST BABY of 1960 will, to them, symbolize all the little ones who, during 1960, will be born in Orinda.

But there will be so many of them that it would be impossible for local stores to give each one an individual gift.

Just one infant—the First Baby of 1960—will be the lucky one.

He or she may be born 30 seconds after the New Year makes its first tick on the clock, or a week or more later.

THERE JUST isn't any way of scouting for advance information, or knowing what the competition is going to do.

Contest rules and the specific items and services to be presented to the First Baby of 1959 appear in this issue.

But, just to be sure that everyone understands the rules before the starter's gun sounds, here are the simple regulations to be followed:

1. The winning baby must be born to parents residing in Orinda, Moraga, or Canyon.
2. Before prizes are awarded, it will be necessary for parents to deliver a written statement by their physician specifying the exact time of birth.

3. If you think you have a winner, immediately phone all pertinent information to The Sun and Sun Shopping News, YE 4-5000 or AT 4-4444.

LOCAL MERCHANTS participating in the contest, and the prizes they are offering include Cliff and Al's Shell Service, free lube and five-quart oil change; Feminine Fancies, Barbizon slip; Village Shoe Store, pair of Pied Piper baby shoes; The Pixie Shop, terrycloth robe.

Also Country Club Togs, pair of Jamaica shorts for the mother; Heaven to Eleven, sacque set; Black's Market, case of Gerber's baby food, a choice steak and a $1 cigar; Central Valley National Bank, a $5 savings account for the new baby; Orinda Hardware, $5 merchandise order; Moraga Nursery, a potted plant or a tree; Patio Music Shop, new record for baby or parents, and Carroll's, a full dinner for the parents.

The ancient Romans honored Janus, the god of gates and doors and of beginnings and endings, on the first day of the year. World Book Encyclopedia reports that Janus, for whom the month of January was named, was pictured with two faces, and looked both ahead and backward.

Here are Unification Opinions Offered by Two Committees

"Unification" of elementary and high schools within the Acaalanes High School District boundaries got a favorable report from the Salary Schedule subcommittee, but the Staffing Patterns subcommittee's conclusion was "No apparent advantages."

This is the first in a series of Sun articles on the study being conducted by the Acaalanes Augmented Committee on School District Re-organization.

Later articles will cover the studies and conclusions of the Articulation, Assessed Valuation and Special Services subcommittees, and the series will conclude before the regular committee will vote January 20 on the five alternatives.

A STRONG possibility is that the members will vote for that system preferred of the five alternatives, even if they should also vote against any form of unification at all.

This preference, whether subordinated to a "no" vote or listed as the desired solution by the committee, will go to the county and state educational authorities, as is required by a recent state law.

The Salary Schedule subcommittee's conclusion: "Unification of the elementary districts and the Acaalanes District is feasible from the standpoint of salary schedules."

"NECESSARY adjustments to make teacher's salaries conform to a single schedule would be small to comparison to the usual annual increases enjoyed by teachers through a combination of general increases, step increases and academic credit increases."

Subcommittee Chairman Donald Falconer admitted that in the case of administrators, formation of larger districts could develop a need for "Stronger positions and higher salaries than now exist."

about 65 per cent of the district budget.

ALTHOUGH the starting teachers' salaries vary about seven per cent from the $4300 in Walnut Creek to $4600 in Lafayette, the average teacher with about five years' experience gets from $6100 in Lafayette to $6280 in Orinda.

This is a spread of only $180, or three per cent.

Falconer said, "Therefore an increase of three per cent would bring the lowest schedule up to the highest—a practical solution to the problem of developing a single schedule for the entire unified district." (He earlier explained that questions of horizontal versus vertical unification, or non-unification, are not separately analyzed.)

He continued that increase required (3 per cent) compares with actual schedule increases of 7.8 per cent, 4.5 per cent and 1.7 per cent, granted on Jan. 1 by the Lafayette, Orinda and Walnut Creek districts, respectively.

aries are usually higher than elementary due to "added preparation" needed, but there should be no problem in integrating the high school schedule since another factor is "... the greater selection exercised by those hiring high school teachers."

The problem where a very few teachers receive very high salaries should not be "too difficult" since they are so few, Falconer continued.

Two recommendations were made, the first independent of any unification and continuing as long as the possibility of unification exists—the second effective only on unification.

1. Establishment of a teachers salary coordinating committee including a trustee from each elementary district and the high school district.

2. After unification, arrangements for an immediate study preferably by professional consultants for an overall salary policy and schedule.

The Staffing Patterns report was submitted by Chairman J. Gordon Ainsworth. It indicates, "Although titles are frequently the same, there is not sufficient uniformity in the duties performed to be able to draw conclusions or to make valid projections."

"... But there are no apparent advantages to be gained in the staffing patterns standpoint. They are as follows:

"IT IS OUR general belief ... that the districts involved in this study, with the exception of Canyon, are, or will soon be large enough so that from the standpoint STRICTLY OF STAFFING PATTERNS, they are in a position to afford and to provide all of the kinds of administrators, consultants, coordinators and special teachers which are necessary to give from an optimum educational system."

Problems of his group, Ainsworth said, were that the staffing patterns of school districts do not lend themselves readily to statistical analysis and comparison ...

Also, there is not sufficient uniformity of titles or position descriptions to be able to apply any rules or conclusions to administrative staffs, he said.

The report concludes with a list of four "factors" which the committee feels should be considered.

THE FACTORS generally throw a light of doubt about the advisability of unification, from a staffing patterns standpoint. They are as follows:

1. The ratio of students per teacher in the large, unified districts tends to be larger than in smaller districts.

2. Largeness as measured by numbers of pupils in a school district does not usually lead to fewer administrative or staff personnel.

3. Largeness in a school district tends to increase the amount of control which must be placed in the hands of the professional administrators.

4. LARGENESS in a school district tends to decrease the directness and intimacy of control and direction that can be exercised by parents through their board of trustees.

The Re-organization Committee vote January 20 was called for in a motion by member Bert Scarborough.

The five alternatives include one overall district including all schools, elementary and high school levels, also two kinds of vertical unification creating three districts, and two kinds of vertical unification creating two districts.

However, a County Schools memorandum indicates that the committee could vote against all five alternatives.

IT SAYS, "... In the event that none of these propositions receive an affirmative vote, a second vote on each proposition shall be taken to recommend which proposition shall be recommended for the Master Plan which the Reorganization Committee must make."

This stems from new legislation contained in Chapter 10 of the State Education Code. The new law passed in the fall.

It says each county MUST prepare a unification plan for each area within its boundaries, even if the general sentiment is currently against any form of unification. The plan must provide for kindergarten (or first grade) to twelfth grade.

FAILURE TO DO this by 1963 could result in preparation of such a plan for the Acaalanes District area by the State Department of Education.

However, actual implementation of any unification plan will require a local election. The legislation appears only to be intended to bring the question of unification to the public's attention.

The rest is up to the committeemen and the voters.

ORINDA'S 1959 Woman of the Year, Ann Pollaczek, took a few moments out after hearing of her selection for the annual honor to glance at the many Christmas cards her family received. Here she joined her husband, Paul, and their two children, Peter, 12, and Susan, 15, around the living room table. Mrs. Pollaczek was chosen by the Man of the Year Committee for her leadership in Orinda's beautification program.

Beautification Brings Honor to Local Woman

By LARRY GLAZIER

Nineteen-hundred and fifty-nine certainly has been a banner year for Orinda's Ann Pollaczek.

The bulk of her beautification efforts on behalf of the Orinda community blossomed into fruition, her native Hawaii became this country's 50th state and, to put the icing on the cake, she was selected yesterday as the 1959 Orinda Woman of the Year.

Mrs. Pollaczek was cited by the community's Man of the Year committee for her leadership of the Orinda beautification committee and her efforts toward "making Orinda a better place in which to live."

WITH THE THEORY that "conservation and beautification benefit everyone" always in her mind, Mrs. Pollaczek reminisced that the first thought she ever had of a community beautification project was when, as conservation chairman of the Orinda Garden Club, she appeared before the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. On that day in November, 1957, Mrs. Pollaczek recalls that she went before the chamber directors to ask their support of a lighted Christmas tree at the Crossroads and of the garden club's nature area program for the Orinda schools.

"While there," she explained, "I began thinking of the mediocre first impression the approach to Orinda might give the community's visitors and I suggested that the garden clubs of the area might cooperate in a project to improve this situation."

"I WAS flabbergasted when the chairman of the directors expressed great enthusiasm over the idea, and before I knew it the beautification committee had been formed under the chamber's sponsorship."

Mrs. Pollaczek and Stanley Allen co-chairman the committee, which directed a community-wide tree planting day about a year ago and has been instrumental in the planting of trees and bushes in the Orinda shopping areas.

The daughter of a former Hawaiian government official and member of a pioneer Hawaiian family, Mrs. Pollaczek now serves as civic beautification chairman of District 4A of the California Garden Clubs Association. The district encompasses 45 garden clubs in the East Bay counties and Marin County.

SHE IS CONVINCED that "the trend today is toward the planting of greenery in down town areas, and we can't afford to let Orinda lag behind other communities, especially since we have so much natural beauty to begin with."

Mrs. Pollaczek first came to the Mainland when she was 19 years old to attend Barnard College, a department of Columbia University in New York City, after completing high school in Honolulu and attending the University of Hawaii for a year.

After her graduation from Barnard with a bachelor's degree in philosophy and fine arts, she went on to Columbia University, where she received a master's degree in anthropology.

THEN CAME a two-year stint as lecturer and curator in primitive art at the Honolulu Academy of Arts.

But on her way back to Honolulu, Mrs. Pollaczek stopped in San Francisco and met her husband-to-be, Vienna-born Paul, who is engaged in the export-import trade.

Committee Names Ann Pollaczek Woman of the Year

Ann Pollaczek, an energetic leader of the community's beautification program, is the 1959 Orinda Woman of the Year.

MRS. POLLACZEK's selection was announced yesterday by Mrs. Millard Simon, chairman of the Man of the Year committee asked by The Sun to determine which Orindan its members felt had done the most for the welfare of the community during the last year or preceding years.

Other members of the selection committee were Donald M. Anderson, 1958 president of the Orinda Association, and Zach Montgomery, member of the Orinda Fire Protection District board of commissioners and a past president of the Orinda Association.

Mrs. Simon reported, "Our selection was not at all an easy one, but the committee members felt unanimously that the beautification of Orinda should be recognized as the outstanding achievement of the year."

AS AN INDICATION of the difficulty of selecting a person for the honor, the committee named 15 other persons for honorable mention.

VICTOR KINGSTON, vice president of the Orinda Association. For his work with the civic affairs committee of the association, his chairmanship of the March of Dimes drive and in Scouting activities.

RICHARD BARTLE, chairman of the Orinda Association's planning committee. For his continuing efforts on behalf of planning in Orinda.

BILLIE BOWLES AND JAMES DANA, for their joint leadership of the fund drive which resulted this year in a swimming pool for Miramonte High School.

WILLIAM KOCH, Orinda's fire marshal.

RICHARD LELAND, who was instrumental in the establishment of the Miramonte Science Seminar, which was inaugurated this fall.

WILLIAM PENN MOTT, JR., for his constant efforts toward better planning for the community.

EVERETT WYATT, who last week announced his retirement March 1 from the post of Orinda fire chief.

DR. J. M. BOULWARE, for his service on the health council and for "being ever-ready to perform first aid in the event of emergencies or accidents in the area."

MRS. BYRON H. BOLE, for representing Orinda at meetings of the East Bay Municipal Utility District board of directors for her efforts on behalf of a recreation area at Briones Dam.

BETTY CHILTON, for instituting and directing the Miramonte Summer Work Program.

STAN ALLEN, for his work with the beautification committee and the Orinda Nursery School.

JACK CLARK, principal at Glorietta School. For his work with teenagers of the community.

Major Flu Outbreak Is Denied

The Contra Costa County Health Department announced yesterday that no serious increases in flu had been reported in the Central County area.

Health officials pointed out that schools are closed for Christmas vacation and flu is not a reportable disease. However, they noted, doctors often inform the department if any major increases become apparent.

A number of central county residents have complained of having flu, but health officials noted there is no cause for concern as far as it being a public health problem, as yet.

Directors Vote For BART Depot Approval of Site

Directors of the Orinda Association passed a resolution Monday night favoring the tentative location of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station on the northwest corner of the Orinda Crossroads.

Only two directors, Vic Kingston and Phil Mittel, voted against the resolution. They maintained the matter should have been brought before the public through the association's civic affairs committee before the board of directors acted on it.

THE ASSOCIATION'S principal concern over the location of the station is that tentative studies call for it to be constructed in the "general vicinity" of the association property, which it is hoped will be used for a community building at some later date.

Dick Bartle, 1959 planning committee chairman of the association who has represented the group in several rapid transit studies, pointed out that the only Orinda site considered by BART for a station was in the Pine Grove area.

But, Bartle said, the Pine Grove site was not considered to be as desirable as the one nearer the Crossroads, primarily because access to it is not as good and the amount of traffic resulting from the rapid transit route would create a problem.

HE EXPLAINED THAT the rapid transit studies are expected to be completed sometime in February, at which time the surveys will be presented to the various county officials in the district for final approval.

For this reason, he stated, suggestion from the public regarding the tentative route as good rapid transit district should be made before February.

The directors also took special notice of the "very healthy condition" of the association's treasury. Treasurer Harry Booth, who has retired as a director, reported that the association's net worth is $2440.11, while two years ago the group started with a deficit.

DIRECTORS COMPLIMENTED Booth for his efforts as treasurer and expresses a vote of thanks to Bartle for his leadership of the planning committee.

Booth also reported that the association had financially contributed to the decoration of the big Christmas tree at Bryant Circle. Other civic and service organizations also joined in the cost of decorating the tree.

A VERSATILE MAN is Robert Hart, who is one of the nation's 19 Bureau of Explosives inspectors during weekdays, and teaches Sunday School on the Sabbath. Here he is with his wife, Florence, son, Christopher, 13, and daughter, Bonnie, 11.

He Checks Explosives, Teaches Christianity

By NORMAN COLBY

Have you ever watched those big trucks labeled "dynamite," "dangerous—corrosives," "T.N.T." or "Poison Gas" roll along our highways and wonder why there is hardly ever an accident or explosion? Hundreds of carriers are seen every week in Central Contra Costa.

Walnut Creek Sunday School teacher Robert Hart sees them, too, but he doesn't wonder.

It is his job to see they are safe—and he does his job as one of the nation's 19 inspectors for the Federal Bureau of Explosives.

"HOW did I get into this? Well, in Philadelphia, I lived across the street from an old-time bureau inspector, Phil Lutz. He retired two years ago at 70."

"I ENJOYED his job, and it looked exciting. He put me through my apprenticeship period," Hart explained.

"WE HAVEN'T HAD any real trouble, although a dynamite truck was consumed (burned, didn't explode) a long time ago, they tell me."

Of course, when the Bureau of Explosives was formed in 1906, they were having a real problem. There were a lot of accidents in the United States and the railroads were determined to do something about it. They did.

And, since the Interstate Commerce Commission was created, we have had its authorization. "An inspector has nothing but friends among his shippers and packagers. They know he's helping them avoid the things they want to avoid."

HART NOTED THAT like a few other skills, inspecting explosives, their containers and carriers is often a technique handed down from father to son.

But whether his son, Christopher, 13, is really interested in the trade is to be seen.

How about the tools of his trade? "I use various measuring instruments available at the plants, but actually, a pencil and piece of paper is all. I more or less look like a pack rat, with pieces of paper sticking out of my pockets."

He arrived in the Bay area from Philadelphia during World War II not long after the ammunition ship exploded off Port Chicago ("military ships are not my responsibility") and began his "cradle to grave" inspection tours of all plants which have anything to do with the making, packaging, transporting or receiving of dangerous materials.

Paid by the Association of American Railroads, he supervises the dropping of metal containers filled with water on concrete, placing of others under pressure, checking valves and gaskets on potentially explosive tank cars loaded with gases, and countless other safety devices.

Dozen Hurt In Wrecks; More Feared

Injury accidents plagued the California Highway Patrol over the Christmas weekend and patrol authorities fear an even greater toll on the roadways over New Year's.

At least a dozen persons have been injured in the past seven days, according to patrol reports, in some 15 traffic mishaps.

Early yesterday morning two teen-agers were treated at Kaiser Hospital following a one car accident at Taylor Boulevard and Pleasant Hill Road.

In fair condition with a fractured nose and severe face lacerations, according to hospital officials, is James A. Kragg, 15, 985 Hawthorne Drive, Walnut Creek and in good condition is Roland J. Gibbert, 16, 10 Garrison Court, Walnut Creek, with lacerations of the chin.

Highway patrolmen Ray Adams and Don Bergman reported that Kragg was southbound on Pleasant Hill Road and attempted to swing right on Taylor Boulevard at 1:30 a.m. Their report indicates that Kragg crossed over the traffic islands and hit a bank at the south side of Taylor Boulevard.

They were taken to Kaiser Hospital by Walnut Creek Ambulance.

In another accident early yesterday, Terrence G. McCann of Alamo was treated at Kaiser Hospital and was kept under observation by hospital authorities.

Highway Patrolman George Young reported that McCann was going west on Diablo road and made a left turn. He hit a pole. He was cited, Young said, for excessive speed.

A 17-year-old driver, Delbert D. Cox, 237 Gregory Lane, ended up in a ditch, highway patrol reports state.

Officer Young stated a defective tire caused Cox to lose control of his pickup truck and hit a bank. He was taken to Martinez County Hospital and released. No citation was issued, the report concludes.

JAMES M. McWalters, 2137 Young's Court, a 14-year-old student at Las Lomas, and Robert Behren, 2165 Young's Court, were injured Monday when they were involved in an accident with a Post Office truck, highway patrol reports state.

McWalters was driving a motor scooter and was cited for driving without a license. The truck driver, Robert G. Schmid, 1110 Grove Circle, Pleasant Hill was uninjured, the report continues.

According to investigating officers, McWalters misjudged the distance between his scooter and the truck on Young's Court and lost control when the two struck one another.

Officers investigated a two car collision on Christmas Eve on Mt. Diablo Boulevard. Both drivers were slightly injured, according to CHP reports.

Charles Marshall, 100 Terra Road, was going east on Mt. Diablo at 2:15 p.m. Edward L. Linotti, 3201 Ortega Avenue, Lafayette, was going in the same direction.

According to the patrol reports, Marshall attempted to make a U turn and was hit by Linotti. Marshall, the report continues, was cited for unsafe turning and no operator's license.

Robert P. Kitchen, 3686 Bon Homme Drive, was taken to Kaiser Hospital early Sunday with wrist and head injuries, according to the patrol.

Reports indicated he was driving along Danville Highway near Arbor Drive, when his small car went out of control and went off the road. Officers reported he was soaked with gasoline and he was cited for driving without due

Burglars Fail; Rocks Thrown

Ben Frishmen, 851 Moraga Road, reported persons throwing dirt and mud at his dogs in his backyard on Saturday.

Pete Linsinnmeyer, 1624 Wendy Drive, reported that burglars tried to enter his donut shop at 1630 Contra Costa Highway, but failed to gain entry. Deputies Arch Nottingham and Bob Frank reported a steel bar across the door kept the would-be burglars from entering the shop early Monday morning.

Roy J. Lechrone, 3953 South Pardale, had tires valued at $50 stolen from his garage. The theft was reported to the central county substation of the sheriff's office Saturday.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT PARADISE ACRES UNIT NO. 1 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the day of December, 1959, on the Board of Supervisors of the County of Contra Costa, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention, whereas it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the following improvements in and for said County, to-wit:

(a) The excavation, installation and sub-base, base and plant mix surfacing, and the construction of curbs, gutters and all appurtenances in Avalon Drive from School Street to St. Mary's Road, and in Rose-dale Avenue from St. Mary's Road to the westerly line of Lots 8 and 9, Paradise Acres Unit No. 1.

(b) The performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above which may be necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications approved therefor by the Board of Supervisors of said County and on file for public inspection in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the improved streets to a grade different from the surface of such streets as they now exist, and that to said extent said grades are hereby changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area shown on the map thereof on file in the office of the County Clerk to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

The descriptions of the improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, as contained in the Engineer's Report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

The cost of the project is $21,900, of which the County of Contra Costa will contribute the amount of $9,658 toward the excavation and installation of sub-base, base and plant mix surfacing.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six percent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next, succeeding ten months from their date.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, as amended.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the County Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Engineer of Work pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 15th day of December, 1959, file with the County Clerk of said County, his report in writing on said improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminary approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purpose of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Tuesday, the 26th day of January, 1960, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisors Room, Hall of Records, Martinez, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment and that any person interested may file a written protest with the County Clerk of said County at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment for a more particular description of said improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the County Clerk of said County.

Nonagenarian Boasts of Happy 65-Year Marriage

By ERWIN MATTSON
James Duston Keys, 3348 St. Marys Road, celebrated his 93rd birthday last Saturday.

He is known by his wide circle of friends as "Uncle Jim" because of his pleasant disposition and quick wit.

Jim is really a native Californian from away back, being born in a place known as Woodland Slough just on the outskirts of Woodland back in 1868. It was there that he was raised and put in 50 years in the hardware business.

HIS MOTHER WAS BORN in California while his father came across the plains in a covered wagon long before California was a state.

It was in Woodland that he met and married Etta Perry. They were married back in 1894 and as Uncle Jim puts it that makes it 65 years with one another and between them they have lots of happy memories.

They recalled that all the automobiles they ever had were Buicks and that the first one was a far cry from the present-day car. You had to hand crank it. It was an open air touring model and lights came as an extra in the form of carbide lamps which emitted an ineffectual glow.

JIM STATED HE had never been in an airplane and intends to keep his feet on terra firma and the more "firma" the better.

The first plane he ever got a real close look at was one that crashed in his yard in Woodland during World War I. The plane, on a flight from nearby Mather Field in Sacramento, fell on a training flight in the yard of a house where Jim and his wife lived for 50 years.

He also states with pride that he has always voted as a Democrat while his wife has voted Republican with the exception of the time when Roosevelt ran and then she turned Democrat.

HE STATES WITH pride that he has been 64 years a member of the Woodmen of the World, 42 years an Elk and 30 years as a Mason.

He attributes his long and good life to hard work and reminisces back to the time when one did all his own carpentry work, painting, plumbing and any other job that came up simply because there was no one else to do it.

He doesn't smoke and doesn't drink and keeps regular hours except for an occasional party.

HE MOVED FROM Woodland to Oakland in 1947; and to Lafayette in 1956, where he and his wife reside with their niece, Margarita Wilson.

He also has a nephew, Arthur "Red" Gillham, who lives at 3199 Stanley Boulevard.

Heart and blood vessel disease is the No. 1 cause of death in the United States today, taking more lives than all others combined.

A VITAL MESSAGE FOR OUR STEELWORKERS

"What about 2-B?"

Collective bargaining is a two-way street.

The Company is willing to give you higher wages, better insurance at less cost to you, bigger pensions, more protection for longer service, and continued cost-of-living protection. That's all "give" on our part.

It's no secret that the steel industry faces strong competition from other materials and from foreign-made steel. At United States Steel we also face competition from other steel companies. All we want is a reasonable chance to compete with these other materials and other steel producers.

We want to sit down and work this problem out with your Union officers. If there is no agreement, then we think it reasonable to arbitrate.

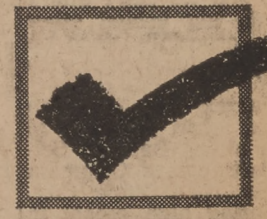

We ask this in return for the many things we are offering. We want you to know our side of the story.

The Company is not trying to "break the Union." The proposed contract will enable the Company to conduct its business in an orderly and efficient manner, which will be good for everyone concerned. Naturally, when it can do that, everyone benefits.

Important Contract Proposals

1. Wages . . . 6¢ to 12¢ an hour increase October 1, 1960 and another increase of same amount October 1, 1961.
2. Cost-of-living . . . the 17¢ cost-of-living adjustment is continued. It can be increased but not reduced.
3. Local Working Conditions . . . no immediate change. Union and Company will both study and try to agree on necessary changes. If no agreement, arbitration.
4. Insurance . . . Company will pay all costs of basic life insurance and sickness and accident benefits—plus more coverage for both.
5. Pensions . . . bigger pension checks—better early retirement opportunities.
6. Stronger Seniority Rights for long-service employees.

Ring Out The Old--Ring In The New--It's New Year's Party Time Tonight

Tonight, the most festive eve of the year, and tomorrow, one of the brightest, happiest holidays of all, Contra Costans will gather with friends and families to ring out the old year and greet the new.

The Ross Waggoners of Arbutus Drive, Walnut Creek, will be off to Hayward to the annual Sportsman's Club ball. Accompanying the Waggoners will be Mr. and Mrs. I. Blau-stain from west of the tunnel. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cassani of Del Monte Court, Walnut Creek will have a full house for the long weekend. Their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stenhaus and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nephews and their children, all up from Fresno. Skiing and relaxing at the Holiday Lodge in Reno are the weekend plans of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lazareschi of Monticello, Walnut Creek.

The Fritz Breuleux's of Arlene Drive have delighted in a full house the entire holiday season entertaining Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brandt from Santa Barbara, Miss Ruth Kyle from Los Angeles, and Miss Ruby Tunks from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Graham of Moraga will attend a gala party at the Carroll Ranch where they will greet the New Year with many of their friends.

Their country home at Inverness is the holiday weekend destination of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Corbett of La-Campana Way, Orinda. The Corbetts will greet the New Year with friends at their country place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tow-ers of Solano Drive, Lafayette will spend a quiet but happy New Year's eve at home. Their guests will be old friends from Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greely.

Mr. and Mrs. William Free-man, Happy Valley Road, La-fayette are planning a quiet New Year celebration this evening at their home where they will be joined by close friends, the Miller Freemans, Robert Bartlett and Loring Winsors. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Gor-don of Poplar Drive, Walnut Creek will entertain this evening at a combined New Year and Playroom Christening party.

Their combined work-shop playroom, recently completed, will be the scene of the evening's festivities which will in-clude a midnight supper.

Among those attending will be the Mesdames and Mes-sieurs Warren Eukel, George Merriman, Charles Chapman, E. F. Gainer, Ralph Lindbergh, Bert Bergesen, Malcolm Wim-press and Howard Layson. The Stan Kwiatts will enter-tain at their Alamo home to-night, ending the evening's festivities with a midnight sup-per.

Among those greeting the

New Year at the Kwiatt home will be Mr. and Mrs. DeLeon Perez of Alamo, Mr. and Mrs. James Joiner of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mervin of Orinda, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hirtell of Vallejo, Mr. and Mrs. Ebbe Brinck-Lund and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Oakland, the Sherman Wel-dons, Al Moglichs, Waldo Ponds and the Ponds' guests, all of Walnut Creek.

Here Are Six Lovely Contra Costa Debs...

THESE ARE the six Contra Costa County young ladies who made their formal society debut at the Winter Ball in Berkeley's Hotel Claremont last week. From left to right are Susan Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ball of Danville; Carol Force, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Force, Jr., of Lafayette; Shelley Pond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Pond of Lafayette; Dana Tolles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Tolles of Lafayette; Sandra Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Willard Miller, Jr., of Lafayette; and Fredericka Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodburn Kenneth Lamb of Orinda.

Glitter, Gold, Lovely Buds Bow at Winter Ball

By MARIE MONOHAN
The Christmas present to Children's Hospital of the East Bay from members of the Hill Branch was wrapped with glitter, gold and gracious young ladies.

The posh package, tied elegantly together for the second year and known as The Winter Ball was opened at 10 p.m. on December 22 at the Claremont Hotel with more than eleven hundred guests gathered to view the contents . . . twenty-three lovely young women from the bay area who made their formal curtsy to society.

The six "Buds" from Contra Costa County bowing at the big holiday event were Susan L. Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ball of Danville; Carol Force, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Force Jr., of Lafayette; Fredericka W. Lamb, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Woodburn K. Lamb of Orinda; Sandra Lee Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Willard Miller, Jr. of Orinda; Shelley Pond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Pond of Happy Valley, Lafayette, and Dana Tolles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Tolles of Lafayette.

The debutantes, wearing the traditional white voluminous gowns, were honored at dinner in the Grecian Room pre-ball where they were individually presented with a Winter Ball memento, an initialled gold charm.

Also dining early with the group were members and husbands of the presentation committee, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilde, Captain and Mrs. Edward Steffanides, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Smith.

Strains of "The Most Beautiful Girl in the World" played by Ray Hackett's orchestra launched the first formal presentation in the Garden Room at 10:30 o'clock.

Each young lady, a portrait of grace and poise as she made her entrance on the gold-curtained stage, carried a bouquet of white carnations festooned with gold frills and streamers of gold metallic ribbon, and was announced by Captain Steffanides of Piedmont.

The deb was then presented by her proud father following a deep curtsy in the direction of the presentation committee and sponsors who were seated mid-room. The hundreds of spectators strained their necks or stubbed their toes or climbed on chairs to get a better look at the bevy of beautiful young women.

A stylized Christmas theme turned the Garden Room into a festive Fairyland atmosphere—of gold and white-covered pillars garlanded with gold beads and clusters of magnolia leaves and pine boughs. Gilded lemons, leaf sprays entwined with tiny white lights swayed from the ceiling to the pillars and mid-room, a large gold chandelier with crystal drops reflected the Midas Touch like a great kaleidoscope of Christmas color.

Youthful escorts cut in on the proud papas and their Christmas Belles to glide and whirl to the strains of Cole Porter's "Wonderbar" and the applause, held back by request until the final deb was introduced, thundered waves of warm approval.

A second presentation (because of the vast throng of guests) was made in L'Horizon Room where Jack Seltenrich and his orchestra played for the repeat-curtsy.

Studding the stage were small formal ivy trees similar to the gay red rose trees that marked the entry to the Garden Room. Seltenrich and his group provided Dixieland music in L'Horizon Room where a capacity crowd of the debs' contemporaries danced 'way into the wee hours. Jody Gompertz whirled on the floor, the lovely white dress she wore as last season's deb, now sashed in a rich red satin cummerbund that came to a bustle-bow in the back. With it, she wore long white gloves. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Gompertz of Orinda.

A lavish buffet was served in the Empire and Gold Rooms starting at 11:30 o'clock. Here, the junior John Knoxes of Orinda (he was on the Floor Committee) stopping to chat with his parents, the senior John Knoxes of Piedmont, The Ritchie Smiths of Orinda, the "Ted" Sawyers of Happy Valley, the senior G. Willard Millers with a Piedmont party, THEY the grandparents of Sandra Miller, Orinda debutante.

FOYER GLIMPSES
Freddie Lamb and her escort Mark Jensen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Jensen of Orinda, the center of a circle of congratulating friends . . . The Ben Holabirds of Orinda with guests, (THEY flew with their daughters Sally and Carol to the Southland for Christmas weekend) . . . The Hugh Millers of Danville there to see their son Richard Carlson, one of the white-boutonniere ushers, Bob and Jean Livermore.

From Lafayette, the Thomas McGuires making up a family group . . . the Stuart Davises of Orinda, they to hold a holiday Open House, for their daughter-in-law and son Barbara and Rick Davis, sharing host-duties with Barbara's parents, the Leo Youngs. Coming from Trader Vic's and another dinner party were the Kendric Morrishes of Orinda, the Dr. and Mrs. Paul Samson of Lafayette . . . Jean and Beach Deane, heading for the buffet, their daughter Nancy a deb last year.

Peter Zischke and George Hall of Orinda, Charles E. Green, Jr. of Walnut Creek, and John P. Symes, Jr. of Lafayette and Samuel Abbott Jr., of Diablo, more of the local committee on the Floor Committee as was Sue Smoot of Valley Hill, Moraga. Jane Smoot's decolette frock one of the prettiest in the constant parade of festive fashions . . . the junior R. Stanley Dollars in another large party, he on the usher roster . . . Blonde Mrs. G. Willard Miller in a pastel pink floor-length strapless slipper satin gown.

Sponsors from Contra Costa County on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fee, Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp of Orinda, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Magee of Moraga; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller of Danville and Mr. and Mrs. Kent Weaver of Concord.

The hardworking members of Hill Branch, headed by Miss Helen Sander, chairman, and Mrs. E. A. Howard, Jr., chairman of the ball, have come up with a winner in The Winter Ball, just two times around and already an East Bay tradition.

Among those assisting Mrs. Aston on this committee are Mrs. James Barker of Pleasant Hill, Mrs. Walter W. Soroka of Lafayette, Mrs. Jeff Norris of Concord, Mrs. David Milburn of Orinda, Mrs. David Thompson of Danville and Mrs. Harold Roderick of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Harry W. Fisher of Walnut Creek has asked the following women to act as hostesses for the day: Mesdames Jeff Norris, Nicholas Sebnick, Ed Traeger, Jack Dennis Harpe, M. R. Press, Gertrude Hubbell, John Edward, C. M. Wheeler, Earl Mulkins, Earl Gray and Carl E. Nelson.

SERVICE FOR OTHERS is Mrs. John C. Follard's key to happiness. Pictured working on the treasurer's report for the Oriole Unit, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, Mrs. Follard will work with the unit this year as its vice president.

Service for Others Fills Days With Joy

By JEAN JERNIGAN

An ardent golfer and bridge enthusiast, Mrs. John C. Follard of 20 Mira Loma, Orinda, nevertheless gives hours of her time in service for others.

She says, "I think women who have the time and intelligence and don't use it to do good are depriving themselves of much happiness." Mrs. Follard added that she believed everyone should give to others, and that it is "shameful" for women whose families are grown not to find their niche in volunteer service.

A lady who lives up to the letter of what she says, Mrs. Follard's time and ability are put to good use.

She has been a member of the Oriole Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center for four years, served as Unit treasurer last year and is currently Oriole vice president.

A social welfare aide, she was a volunteer in the Social Service Branch of the Red Cross in Walnut Creek for three years, and will resume this volunteer work again in January.

January will be a busy month for Mrs. Follard, for she will also assume the responsibility of writing "On The Lighter Side" for this newspaper. The column contains many notes of interest about the Therapy Center.

Once a month Mrs. Follard meets with eleven other Orinda ladies for a bridge-luncheon at the Orinda Country Club. However, this is not purely social group. The women organized six years ago as a unit to assist Guide Dogs For The Blind. Proceeds from their meetings are used to assist in the purchase of guide dogs.

An Orinda resident since 1951, this capable lady has also served on the Board of Directors of the Orinda Women's Republican Club for four years and is active with the Orinda Community Church.

A member of the Orinda County Club, Mrs. Follard won the Women's Club Golf Championship in 1956. She says of her bridge game, "I can hold my own."

Other leisure time pleasures are music and books. A pianist in her own right, Mrs. Follard particularly enjoys listening to symphonies. Completely honest, she admitted she "didn't much like cooking," but added that she always prepared sensible "American" food for her family.

The Follards have one son, John, and two grandsons, 11 and 13. John was a former Orinda resident but now lives in Portland due to a business transfer.

Philadelphia born, Mrs. Follard was educated here and is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, where she majored in languages and botany, thinking at one time she might be a teacher.

Orindans to Greet 1960

Cocktails, dinner and dancing from 9 to 2 a.m. will set the scene at the Orinda Country Club tonight for a rousing welcome to 1960.

Music will be Gordy Heche and his orchestra.

Among the localities who have made table reservations for guests numbering from four to twenty are the following: Dr. Alfred D. Lange, Albert S. McCann, Thomas Hayes, Robert Johnson, George A. Neldham, Thomas Connolly, Richard Scammell, James Gallagher, Gordon Wilks, Dr. Alex Konkin, Jack Fraser, Dr. Fred Beck, Dr. William Howe, Robert W. Hummel, G. F. Bonnington and Lewis N. Mitchell.

St. Perpetua's Dinner Jan. 5

St. Perpetua's Guild will hold its first meeting of the new year on Tuesday, January 5, at 8 p.m., with Mrs. William Sanford presiding.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Father William C. McGuire, assistant pastor of St. Edward's Church, San Francisco, and former student body chaplain at St. Mary's College. Father McGuire's subject will be "The Meaning of Marriage for a Catholic."

Also on the agenda will be the final planning for an Italian dinner and dance to be held in the church hall on Saturday, January 16. Chairman for the dinner is Mrs. P. Nelson.

Mrs. John S. Zivic is chairman of the program for the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Noted Lecturer Will Appear in Walnut Creek

Rated by Time magazine "easily at the top of her trade," Lorita Baker Valley, popular analyst of world affairs, books and plays, will begin a series of lectures on January 13 in Walnut Creek.

Presented by the Rocking Horse Chapter of Children's Home Society, the talks will be held at the Women's Club of Walnut Creek, 1224 Lincoln Avenue, January 13, February 10 and March 9 at 2 p.m.

No more pleasant way of keeping well informed has ever been devised than that of attending one of Mrs. Valley's lectures on current events. As Gertrude Atherton wrote of her, "Mrs. Valley is not only the most fascinating speaker in her line that I have ever heard, but she has the quality of grasp in quite an extraordinary degree . . . Her prose is not only distinguished but full of salt and vitality."

Popular demand recently returned Mrs. Valley to regular television appearances in Los Angeles. In addition to her audiences there, she speaks to more than 20,000 each month. That every child has an inherent right to a home of his own has been the philosophy of Children's Home Society of California since its founding in 1891. Proceeds from the event will go to support the society's adoption services.

According to the program chairman, Mrs. Francis Morris, series tickets are available from Mrs. Herbert Lawton, 36 Adele Court, Alamo, VE 7-5286; and Mrs. William Morgensen, 19 Estabueno, Orinda, DR 6-5504. Donation $5.

Hart Corbett Will Wed Mary Jo Kidd

The engagement of Mary Jo Kidd to Hart Wilcox Corbett has been announced in three locales due to the wide area encompassed by their many Stanford friends.

The couple first announced their engagement at a friend's wedding in Coronado. It was announced again at his Orinda home on Christmas Day, and at her home in Modesto on Christmas night.

Mary Jo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kidd of Modesto and graduated from Stanford with the class of 1959.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Corbett of Orinda. He prepped at Acalanes High School and is also a '59 graduate of Stanford.

A member of the R.O.T.C. at Stanford, he will leave soon for a two year army assignment at Fort Benning, Georgia. The couple plan to be married next summer.

Barbara Fridell Will Marry Ensign R. Whitby

The engagement of Barbara Anne Fridell to Ensign Ralph E. Whitby was announced at a family gathering at the Whitby home on Christmas Day.

Barbara Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Squire Fridell of 8 Meadow Lane, Lafayette. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whitby of Berkeley.

The bride-elect is a senior at College of the Pacific where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Beta. Ensign Whitby attended San Jose State where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

William Kochs Return From Yosemite Honeymoon

Now at home in Orinda after a honeymoon trip to Yosemite are Mr. and Mrs. William John Koch.

Mrs. Koch, the former Betty Arline Rubin is the daughter of Mrs. Otto Rubin of Monett, Missouri and the late Mr. Rubin. The bride's brother, the Reverend Alvin L. Rubin of Walnut Creek performed the late afternoon ceremony in his church, Trinity Lutheran in Walnut Creek and he also gave his sister in marriage.

The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Koch of Rose Lane, Orinda and is a member of the Orinda Fire Department.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace lined with satin, the scoop neckline appliqued with patterns of the lace with seed pearls and sequins. The full flowing skirt, slightly lowered at the waistline, extended to a chapel train and a crown of the lace held her long illusion veil. She carried pink and white bouvardia with phalaenopsis orchids.

Dorothy Rubin was her maid of honor, in royal blue and Helen Clark was bridesmaid, in powder blue. Both dresses were fashioned of taffeta in princess style. Their head-dresses were bands of white chrysanthemums with light blue ribbon and they carried bouquets of the same blooms with powder blue ribbon.

Reinhold Schott was best man, and ushers were Walter Vielbaum, Chet Clark and Carl Rubin. The bride's sister-in-law, the Reverend Rubin's wife represented the bride's mother who was unable to be present.

Mrs. Rubin wore a gown of silk chiffon print of black, gold and green in sheath style. The full flowing skirt, slightly lowered at the waistline, extended to

Open House Heralds Troth

One of the gayest of the holiday "Open House" parties was held on a recent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Alexander, Glen Road, Lafayette.

Seventy guests from Lafayette, San Francisco and Marin County filled the Alexander home, festively decorated for the occasion.

Augmenting the Lafayette guests were writers and artists from across the bay, colleagues of Ken Alexander.

The Open House scheduled from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. continued on through the evening, sparked with a delicious punch concocted by the host, and topped with a ham and turkey buffet supper.

Among those from Lafayette who attended the gala affair were the Ford Lovelaces, the Chuck Nunes, the Bill Whites, John Pervis and Bob Bartaks.

New Year's Eve Ball at Diablo

The new officers and board of directors of the Diablo Country Club were introduced to the membership at the club's annual Christmas party held recently.

DeWitt Krueger, immediate past-president introduced John Enright, president; Bill Houston, vice president; J. G. Buzz Knowlton, secretary-treasurer and the board of directors who are Jack Davis, Lou Schrepel, Spencer Archer, Carl Noecker, Moody Jorgensen and Ted Lake.

The membership is planning a New Year's eve party in the spacious ballroom which will be decorated with balloons, serpentine and confetti. The annual formal event will include entertainment and dancing to Henry Gallagher's band.

Chairman for the New Year's eve party are the Mesdames and Messieurs James Prince, Bailly Justice, Robert Allen, Robert Bell, Lee Fimrite and Gil Kufahl.

Museum Members

Among those added to the membership roster of the Oakland Museums Association last month were Mr. and Mrs. Harry X. Ford of 2837 San Benito Drive, Walnut Creek.

Bethel 218 Installs Officers

Lafayette Bethel 218, International Order of Job's Daughters will hold its seventeenth semi-annual installation of officers at 8 p.m. January 9, at M. H. Stanley School.

Robert Hawk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hawk of Lafayette, will be installed as honored queen.

Retiring queen Gayle Erickson will serve as installing officer. She will be assisted by Jane Harmon, Merrie-Ann Wilkinson, Suzanne DeHaan, Lillian Gadsby, Nancy Peterson, Antoinette Mondot, Karen Stevens, and Gloria Raven, as hosts.

Other new officers will be Carol Curtiss, senior princess; Judy Bradley, junior princess; Kathleen Cortese, guide; Robin Wooten, marshal; Kathleen Shields, chaplain; Diane Benofsky, musician; Bonnie Johnson, librarian; Susan Brown, recorder; Carol Lacy, treasurer; Sylvia Corwin, outer guard; Martha Walters, inner guard; Trudy Hardin, junior custodian; Ann Gilmore, senior custodian; Carol Kirkham, first messenger; Donna Cave, second messenger; Sherrill Coles, third messenger; Linda Vigors, fourth messenger; Connie Walther, fifth messenger.

B.Y.F. for junior and senior high meets at 6:45 p.m. in the Moraga School. This is a time of recreation and inspiration for the young people.

A nursery is provided both morning hours. An extended session for pre-schoolers, first, second and third graders is provided during the worship service.

Episcopal

Services on the second Sunday after Christmas at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will be Holy Communion at 8 a.m., 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m., with the Reverend C. Corwin Calavan, rector, as celebrant.

Father Calavan will preach at all services. He will be assisted by the Reverend William Pothier, associate pastor. At the organ will be Dr. Lawrence Moe, University of California organist, who will serve as interim musical director until the newly appointed choirmaster and organist, Donald Loach, assumes the duties of his post.

CHURCH SCHOOL will meet for kindergarten through eighth grade at 9:15 and for three-year-olds through fifth grade at 11 o'clock. Nursery care for young children will be available at the David Wenrich home, 14 St. Stephen's Drive.

Tomorrow, New Year's Day, the Feast of the Circumcision will be observed with a celebration of Holy Communion at 10 a.m.

On Sunday at 7 p.m. the Young People's Fellowship will present the Feast of Lights pageant depicting the spread of Christianity. This service is an annual event held every year on the Sunday nearest the Epiphany, January 6.

THE CAST for the pageant will include Charles Wood, acolyte; Jim Effinger, narrator; Mary Moorehead, Mary; Dave Robinson, Joseph; Bob Pothier, St. Paul; Charles Pfeifer, bishop; Richard Vivrette, priest; and Mike Smyth, deacon.

The St. Margaret's and St. Helena's Guilds will meet jointly on Thursday at 10 a.m. at the home of Pat Bernard, 7 Donna Maria Way.

FLAVOR SEALED IN Flavor can be sealed right into meat by using infra-red burners now provided in LP-Gas ranges. The burners have another advantage: they also cut cooking time.

"SOUTH PACIFIC," the screen version of the great Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, moves into its second week at the Park Theatre, Lafayette, today. The color Cinemascope production stars Mitzi Gaynor, Rossano Brazzi, John Kerr, Ray Walston and France Nuyen. "South Pacific" has been called by many the greatest musical ever produced by the team of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Baptist

"The Man With the Question" will be the sermon topic of the Reverend Alan D. Southwell at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Moraga Community Baptist Church, temporarily meeting in the Moraga School, School Street, Moraga.

Sunday church school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and concludes with a family gathering and a children's story by the pastor.

THE BOARD of trustees will meet on Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Mid-week Bible study will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Val Witte, 3275 Val's Lane, Lafayette, on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m.

The Thursday morning women's study group will continue its discussion on the Book of Revelation on Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

THE CHOIRS will hold their regular rehearsal on Thursday evening: Juniors at 6:20 p.m., intermediates at 7:15 p.m., and seniors at 8:15 p.m.

The junior and senior confirmation classes will meet on Saturday at 10 a.m.

Covenant

Dick Ball, newly-elected Sunday school superintendent, will be in charge of the opening exercises at Sunday school at the Lafayette Covenant Church, Sunday at 9:45 a.m. There are classes for all age levels.

Pastor William C. Mays' sermon topic for the 11 a.m. worship service will be "Looking Forward." Communion will be observed at the conclusion of the service.

REVEREND DICK OWEN, Oakland Youth for Christ director, will be speaking to the senior high young people at 6 p.m. At 7 p.m. the young people who attended the Y.P.C. convention recently at Miramar will present "Miramar Echoes" and will bring special music including a piano and trumpet duet by Tom and Paul Hedges.

At the annual meeting of the church recently the following officers were elected:

Morris Bergesen, church chairman; Ed Larson, vice-chairman of church; Ezra Nelson, secretary; Peter Padelford, vice-secretary; Bud Hillberg, financial secretary; Bob Ball, treasurer; Dick Ball, Sunday school superintendent.

Strict Enforcement of 65 Mile Per Hour Limit

Strict enforcement of the 65 mile an hour speed law which goes into effect tomorrow was promised today by Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of the California Highway Patrol.

"The California Highway Patrol supported the new speed limit bill when it was before the legislature last spring because we believe that it will help reduce the slaughter on our highways caused by uncontrollable, run a way speeds," Crittenden declared.

"Now that we have the law on the books, I am determined to save every life we can possibly save through its strict enforcement."

"The law fixes the maximum legal speed at 65 miles an hour and that is exactly how the patrol will enforce it," he said.

Crittenden emphasized that the 65 mile limit will apply only on highways that have not been posted for a lower maximum speed by the State Department of Public Works.

"Many stretches of highway outside of cities will be posted for speeds lower than 65 miles an hour, and the California Highway Patrol will enforce these lower limits just as it has in the past," he declared.

"The posted limits, which range from 60 to 25 miles per hour, indicate the safe speed for the areas as determined by traffic surveys, and motorists who violate these limits will be arrested," he concluded.

Features, Facts, Fiction All Highlighted in Suburbia

Suburbia Today, the wonderful magazine section of The Sun, comes to you January 8 just chuck full of colorful features, facts and fiction.

For example, here is the editorial lineup for the January 8 edition.

Cover—We are coming into the sixties with some of the funniest, finest cartoonists in the country. They'll have a laugh for you on almost every page of this January issue and all others to follow—the more the merrier.

On our January cover, Laura Jean Allen rings in the new year, with her own rendering of a happy, familiar suburban scene—Bringing the Baby Home.

Page 2—"Getting Around" starts in this issue—a report that gets around to our pleasant exploding towns for funny, surprising, eye-opening items of local news—a close-up view that we plan to offer regularly from now on.

Page 4—"Suburbia—Any Day." Our cartoonists spread the welcome mat for Dad before he can open the door and sigh, "I've had a tough day at the office."

Page 6—"What Can We Do About the Traffic Mess?" by Wilfred Owen. A top authority on transportation problems tells us how we got into our jam, and what we'd better do quick, about building new roads, and new cities and suburbs at the end of them.

Page 9—"What Do I Do Now, Mr. Packard?" by Jean Kerr.

Baptist

"Do You Have Enough?" will be the sermon of the Reverend Bruce H. Parker at the morning worship service of the First Baptist Church of Orinda-Lafayette, meeting in the Veterans Memorial Building at 11 a.m.

Concurrent with this service are junior church and nursery care available for those of appropriate ages.

SUNDAY SCHOOL starts at 9:45 a.m. with graded classes for all ages. Baptist Youth Fellowship begins at 6:45 p.m. with two groups for ages junior high, college and high school.

The evening service convenes at 7:30 p.m. and is geared to the Old Fashioned evangelistic program and concludes with a message by Pastor Parker entitled "When God Was Sorry."

Prayer Meeting and Bible study will be held at the pastor's home, 15 Woodland Road, Orinda, at 7:30 p.m., after which choir practice will begin.

According to present plans, the congregation will be meeting in the new building this coming Sunday, until then all services will be conducted in the Veterans Memorial Building, unless otherwise noted.

Those who would a-wassailing go on Christmas are indebted to Henry VII World Book Encyclopedia says the English king introduced the drink of hot ale and spices from the Scandinavian countries in the 1400's. In some parts of England, trees and fields were "wassailed," or toasted, to insure a good crop.

The author of "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" reads "The Status Seekers" by Vance Packard and is really upset about her own status, and small wonder. On the same page, Packard writes a note to help (2) straighten her out; Whitney Darrow Jr. illustrates fully, and a fine time is had by all.

Pages 10 and 12—After any perfect meal, serve one of these perfect desserts—mellow Creme Brulee or Regal Chocolate Cake, or fancy Sherry Elegance. Then stand back for the applause... and the encores.

Page 14—"How to Plan the Easy Garden." Gardening authority John Brimer reminds us that it's seed catalog time; and the time to plan next summer's garden is NOW, January, 1960.

Pages 18, 19 and 23—"He Has an Open Mind Now" by Marion Lowndes. Can a child keep an open mind if he grows up in the suburbs? Will he get the variety of experience and the challenges he needs to exercise his intelligence and stimulate his growth? This article discusses the limitations which may be built-in with the ease and comfort of a suburban background, and suggests ways of compensating.

Pages 20 and 21—"Unusual Suburban Home." This month it's an "Oklahoma Sanctuary," the home of the Trustee Costans. A dramatic modern home developed from an old homestead, it is set in a sweep of 80 acres of prairie land, only 15 miles from downtown Oklahoma City.

You Needn't Be Drunk To Kill, Just Sociable

The social drinker is a greater traffic menace than the obvious drunk, and during holiday periods his potential as a non-deliberate, unpremeditated killer on the highway is alarming.

So warns the Eastbay Chapter National Safety Council, which predicts that unless the trend changes fully 50 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents in the Bay Area during the Christmas-New Year's holidays will involve drinking drivers.

"We mean 'drinking drivers,' not 'drunk drivers,'" the Council added. "A popular mistake is the substituting of the expression 'drunk driver' for 'drinking driver.'"

"If we use the popular conception of a 'drunk driver' then he isn't much of a problem at all in comparison with the social drinker who drives."

"The expression 'drunk driving' simply provides an easy out for the average social drinker who consumes a few cocktails at his neighborhood bar or in a friend's home and then heads down the highway, convinced he's not drunk and therefore able to drive.

He may not be drunk—in the popular sense—but he shouldn't be driving, and his chances of getting into an accident have been increased five to 10 fold. Two cocktails may reduce visual acuity as much as wearing dark glasses at night. They have an aproportionate effect on reflexes."

"Nowhere in the vehicle code is the word 'drunk' mentioned. Rather, the code simply states: 'It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and any drug, to drive a vehicle upon any highway.'"

"The severe penalties in store for drinking drivers—if they live—apply certainly to the obvious drunk, but most important, they apply to social drinkers, who far outnumber the drunk, and who will kill more people during the coming holiday period than will the obvious drunks.

"Most of us honestly cannot identify ourselves with the 'drunk driver,' and because of this many of us will kill or be killed, because we thought we were fit to drive, when actually alcohol had seriously impaired our ability to perform this highly skilled act."

How much can an individual drink before he reaches the danger point? According to the Safety Council, a person who has .05 per cent alcohol concentration in the blood should not be driving. Roughly, the Council explained, this is the equivalent of one and one-half ounces of 100 proof whiskey or approximately two 10-ounce bottles of five per cent beer.

The Council took aim at the popular notion that coffee or other stimulants will offset the effects of alcohol.

"Make that one for the road coffee is sheer nonsense, if the coffee immediately follows a few strong drinks. It is probable that more than one Bay Area driver has gone to his death believing that one or two cups of strong black coffee would restore good driving judgment after a few strong drinks. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the blood stream. It takes at least three hours to oxidize (eliminate) one ounce of pure alcohol out of the body."

The Safety Council believes that the drinking driver is one of the nation's greatest social problems "because it involves such a large segment of our society."

"Most Americans drink to some extent. Most never get staggering drunk. But one doesn't have to reach this extreme to be legally 'under the influence' and to be a potential unpremeditated killer on the highway."

An Antiquated System...

Justice is a peculiar thing, in that it requires a tremendous administrative system to assure that each person "has his day in court."

Consequently, over the years, a series of inferior and superior courts have come to function in our county, as in other counties, to take care of many different kinds of appeals, citations and suits.

But over the years, the court system has become antiquated in that there are overlapping functions, large districts that do not have heavy enough traffic to warrant the type of court in existence, and other similar "confusions."

WITH THIS IN mind, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors recently voted to ask the State Judicial Council to study all municipal and judicial courts in the county with the view in mind of reorganizing our inferior court system.

This action was spurred by Supervisor Thomas Coll who deserves congratulations for his efforts to streamline this portion of our government.

There can be no question that this study needs to be made, and even less question that action should be taken before any other miscarriages of justice are carried out as recently happened in the Clayton Judicial District.

In this particular instance, there were two vacancies in the district the court could have been eliminated or merged with the Concord Municipal Court ... but it wasn't.

Supervisor Warren Buchanan commented that he wanted to eliminate the court "but the residents demanded a new judge be appointed and the court continued."

"It's politically impractical to consider consolidation," he said.

"WE CAN DO NOTHING in the face of massive community opposition."

To this, Coll argued that "we're not facing reality."

We're inclined to agree with Supervisor Coll, and to point out that sometimes the supervisors have to act in the best interests of the people in spite of a "vocal" group that objects.

We're willing to bet that if the people in the Clayton area had been aware of the cost and the tax situation, they would have felt differently about the disposition of the court.

For example, if a vote had been taken within a 10-mile radius of the court, and the people had been informed, there would have been the opportunity to abolish one more unnecessary and expensive district.

This is a situation that called for leadership on the part of the supervisors, and the fact that the study is being undertaken indicates that we are getting someplace, thanks to Mr. Coll.

BUT ALL THE studies in the world won't save us, as taxpayers, a single penny unless direct action is taken on the recommendations.

We hope that this won't be another forgotten issue by the time the study is made, and that some concrete results will be forthcoming ... results which will streamline an antiquated and expensive system and save us all dollars on our tax bill.

Because that's what it all boils down to ... money, our money as taxpayers. And with the proper leadership from the supervisors, we can cut and prune until our tax bills become reasonable instead of impossible.

we find out, a week later, that you were right all the time and that we were secretly calling you all those nasty names in error. In other words, we were acting like a bunch of first-rate jerks.

We will try to give you a healthy mixed diet in your newspaper during the coming year ... such things as light, humorous features, background articles, special-interest articles and hard news, too. We will try to entertain you as well as keep you informed, as best we can, as to what is happening in the community around you.

We promise, also, to pay attention to your suggestions, instead of just shrugging them off as if you didn't know what you were talking about. In other words, this is your newspaper, and we will try to remember that.

(YOU GET IN THE habit, you know of thinking that just because you write the articles, the paper belongs to you ... this isn't so ... it belongs to the wonderful subscribers and advertisers who support it ... and to the community.)

And we promise, finally, to be 100 per cent accurate. We will never misspell a name, never get an address wrong, be completely sure of all our facts, and never print a mis-statement.

Now that we are on record, we are all fair game. Hunting season is here. Won't you share it with us during 1960? Have a happy new year!

TYPICAL OF THE signs being installed by the State Division of Highways at all highway entrances to California is this sign on U. S. 40 east of Truckee. The Highway Patrol officer pointing to it is Sergeant Francis H. Snyder. The new 65-mile speed limit for automobiles becomes effective tomorrow.

We Like It Here... Come Tiptoe Through the Tinsel & Tissue With Me

By MARIE MONAHAN

We are contemplating our resolutions for the New Year. We go through this every year.

We sit here under the tissue reflecting on the past. Suddenly a basketball whizzes by.

(1.) We will not YELL in the New Year. So we might as well start now.

"Would you please take the ball outside, boys? You DO know better, Dears!"

It is our favorite time of the year and we say it pleasantly. We are not gritting our teeth. It is a pleasure to be pleasant in this pleasurable post-Christmas week.

The presents are still spread out under the tree. The pine boughs are crisp and stiff. The Swedish Cookie tree is bare of cookies and the dog is full of Danish cheese — which he snatched off the coffee table on Saturday when we weren't looking.

We are full of fruit-cake and well egg-nogged.

The cookies are no longer being hidden and tucked into canisters in dark corners of the cupboards. Christmas Eve and Christmas Day have come & gone and now everything we have is yours.

The cat has finally adjusted to her red & green felt collar.

The dog was different. He liked his instantly, hamming it up like a human and looking just like the mutts in those pictures of the card playing canines.

Everything special we've baked and bought is right out in the open, now.

The children keep bouncing their friends through the house and we offer them The Works. (They were all wondering when we would finally break down & let them eat cookies off the Cookie Tree.)

The ribbon candy & the Candy Canes are surrounded by rosy red apples and sitting in a sea of billowy white popcorn.

Everything we have is yours now, kiddies.

Just please, keep your new basketball & your BB gun & your fishing pole outside when you come in.

We are getting a little crowded.

The new games are spread all over the floor. There is Monopoly, Sorry, Careers and Electric Football.

The latter game for our youngest was what he wanted most. But it was a mistake.

It sounds like a plane is taking off in our living room.

The game is worked by vibration. We are vibrated right out of the house.

But as we said, we are not gritting our teeth. Just making resolutions.

This is our Happy Time.

We are really enjoying Christmas now. Still writing Christmas cards with long notes to those we never made it to on time. Happy New Year & all that sort of thing!

ON THE DOOR, we have a little gold Glockenspiel against a pine bough. A small Danish wooden soldier Drummer Boy is perched on top and the whole thing is tied with red satin ribbon.

Before Christmas, we guarded it with our life. Play it carefully. Kids! Don't bang it too hard, boys!

Surprisingly, it has held up & now we are through testing.

The moppets may hammer the Dickens out of it. Which they do.

AS FOR US, we sit here and promise ourselves that the Christmas presents we buy in June or July will not get so HIDDEN away that we disrupt the whole house looking for them.

We resolve too, that we will be ALL FINISHED WITH EVERYTHING 3 days before Christmas so we can relax & enjoy it.

As for the Christmas cards — well, Happy New Year!

Letters to The Editor

MAN OF YEAR

Dear Editor:

The Sun is doing a great service to the residents by giving leadership in the community this annual token of recognition of work well done.

Every community needs leadership, and all too often the hard work necessary to promote civic interests seems to go by without recognition.

The Sun is encouraging workers in the field of civic interest by promoting this annual award, and it deserves a great, big thank you from the residents.

RUTH DAWKINS

COVERAGE

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the more than two thousand Jehovah's Witnesses that gathered at the Contra Costa County Fair Grounds for their semi-annual Circuit Assembly, we wish to express our thanks for your news coverage.

As one who reports the news, you are in a position to see the fulfillment of Bible prophecy in the news items that cross your desk. You no doubt are aware of the constant threat to world peace and the increase in crime and violence.

Although there is renewed interest in religion we feel many still need to be trained to do the Divine Will.

The hundreds that attended our assembly and read your columns were helped by discourses and demonstrations to do the Divine Will, and received the answer to "When Is God's Will to Be Done on Earth?"

Many local residents have spoken to our department of your coverage and by this note we wish to express our thanks also.

NORBERT L. MATZ.

BEAUTIFICATION

Dear Editor:

We note that the new Shell station, previously bitterly criticized by some, is installing decorative planters on its Mt. Diablo Blvd. frontage.

Individual pride and care is the time that the fair was a financial success.

The committee feels very gratified at the results, as you realize this was the first year into this type of venture. I feel the future years will smooth out the operation and we will all benefit by the experience we have encountered this year.

Again, thank you so much for your cooperation.

MRS. WALTER D. REED

4 Indonesian Ministers See County School

Four Indonesian ministers of education yesterday surveyed administration of public schools in Contra Costa County as a possible model for their own country.

The four, T. Soedjawan, J. Soetanegara, T. Soediro and T. Soegeng, conferred with Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent, and members of his staff at the court house in Martinez.

"Service Functions of the Central Office of Education" was the theme of a roundtable discussion. Later, the party divided and visited Pittsburg Unified School District and Liberty Union High and Brentwood School Districts, again for roundtable discussions on "Local District Organization and Local Initiation."

The Pittsburg party was accompanied by Robert Bruce, consultant to the Indonesian study program. U. S. Office of Education, and Dr. Frank Bradford, director of administration services, Contra Costa schools.

Accompanying the East Contra Costa contingent was Robert Flewelling, University of California intern attached to the county superintendent's staff, who made the local arrangements for the visit.

Let's Write Out Some New Year's Resolutions

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The New Year is almost here.

And it's time for New Year's Resolutions. So ... let's think for a few minutes and list some things "to do" and "not to do." Here goes — Resolved:

That we'll not catch cold and we'll take plenty of vitamins to stay healthy.

That taxes will be lowered or, at least, not go higher in 1960 because of governmental efficiency.

That we'll work hard when we work; and relax thoroughly when we relax — with perhaps a new hobby or interest. (Anyone for golf, tennis, bridge or community affairs?)

Let the kids relax!

That we won't push our kids too hard with too many organized programs.

That we'll remember that children's discipline begins at home and is not the primary job for schools, churches, etc.

That the weatherman will give us more rain. That county, city and other governmental officials will not go on unnecessary or costly junkets.

That the county's law enforcement organizations will whip into shape.

That narcotics peddlers will be locked up for keeps.

And for commuters . . .

That the tunnel will be built with great speed.

That commuters be commuted from traffic tie ups.

That the Walnut Creek By-pass be completed forthwith.

That 1960 is a year of peace.

That we'll strive to make The Sun a newspaper in which the readers can take increasing pride ... and to remember that credit for this newspaper should go not to its staff but to the thousands of readers and advertisers who have given loyal support and helpful criticism throughout the years.

Come join the fun

That, as individuals, we'll actively participate in community affairs ... by keeping informed, attending meetings, voicing our opinions, accepting responsibility, voting.

That we'll support community programs.

That we'll take our kids for a hike in our beautiful hills.

That we'll take our spouse on a weekend — to get away from togetherness and the kids.

That we'll work to change the high school rules which prohibit school social events after football and basketball games.

That we'll get to know our neighbors a little better.

Think this one over

That we'll shop locally ... not only to save gas, oil and tires ... not only because local stores are competitive and offer excellent quality backed by their own "future" ... but also because our hometown stores pay local taxes, and support community activities.

That hometown stores offer even better service, prices and merchandise.

That we help keep our roads free of litter.

That we carefully study important questions to be voted upon in 1960 — fluoridation, rapid transit, school financing and the primary and general elections.

Aspirins won't help . . .

That we help resolve the many problems facing our own community.

That we shall not drive when we've been drinking. That we will develop more patience, understanding and tolerance.

That — Oh, heck, enough resolutions ...

A very Happy New Year to you all.

The Staff Corner Hunting Season Is On...

By DICK OSBORN

The newspaper business is a funny game. You're always behind or way ahead, but never HERE, if you get what I mean.

For instance, this is being written before Christmas. You'll read it just before New Year's ... and I'll be gone on a water-soaked vacation for a week.

But before leaving, it occurred that you might be left with best wishes for a happy new year, and all that goes with it.

It would be impossible to give individual wishes to all the friends that the editorial staff of The Sun has made during the past few years.

BUT I KNOW THAT Bob Rapida, Larry Glazier, Jean Jernigan and Norm Colby will be wishing you all the same good things and happiness that I am, so you may take this personally from all of them.

It might be good for the editorial staff of this fishwrapper to make a few resolutions, as is customary at this time of the year, so I will do so publicly. (They will never forgive me for committing them, like this, but then, that's the way it goes.)

We, the editorial staff, resolve to be kind and patient even when we KNOW that you are all mixed up in your facts when you bring us a story.

WE FURTHER RESOLVE to apologize very sincerely and humbly when

1959 Was Eventful Year For County's Schools

From A to V—audio-visual education to vision testing—1959 was a plethoric student accounting program for Contra Costa County schools.

It began with the inauguration on January 5 of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus, successor to B. O. Wilson, who retired after 26 years in the office.

It ended with a record enrollment of nearly 109,000—from kindergarten children to junior college students.

OTHER MILESTONES:

In the new national atmosphere of intensified learning, Contra Costa County schools inaugurated or expanded programs for gifted students. A majority of high schools added another period to the school day.

Many school districts qualified for grants under the National Defense Education Act to finance stepped-up programs in science, mathematics, language.

The county Board of Education authorized applications for two others: (1) a five-year followup of approximately 38,000 high school graduates and drop-outs throughout the county to determine how well their schooling prepared them for jobs or college and (2) purchase of additional films and other audio-visual materials for use in expanded science programs.

INSTRUCTIONAL television increased, Danville Union and Mt. Diablo Unified joining the school districts using KQED telecasts.

Use of data processing equipment for school records was introduced. IBM report cards issued at Del Valle High School last month marked the beginning of what is planned as a complete student accounting program.

The program is being established by the office of the county superintendent, using the county government's IBM equipment.

The vision of approximately 14,000 young school children was tested with a new and, it is believed, much improved test called Modified Clinical Technique.

MCT was originated in a study at Orinda Union District schools by Contra Costa County Health and School Departments and vision experts of the University of California and Stanford.

The county-wide testing program was conducted by the county school department.

Dr. Marchus said that by the end of 1960, the enrollment in Contra Costa County schools will probably reach 114,000. The annual gain for some years has been about 5000 students.

Dr. Marchus compared the county's enrollment with that of 1949, when there were 54,800 students—roughly half as many as today.

GROWTH by upper grades during the decade is even more spectacular, commented the superintendent. "At the 7th, 8th and 12th grades there are approximately two and one-half times as many students now as in 1949."

He attributed the disproportionate increase to the fact that the World War II babies have reached the upper grades. The period is also one of relative stability, and high school boys are staying in school rather than entering the armed services.

Preliminary Part of Rapid Transit System Under Way

An important preliminary phase of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's trans-bay tube project will get under way early next month, chief engineer, Kenneth M. Hoover, said today.

The work involves drilling for soil core samples on the bottom of the Bay and installation of underwater "geophones" to record earthquake vibrations along the proposed tube alignment.

Cost of the work will total approximately $125,000.

Information gathered during the studies will be used to determine the precise depth and location for the tube, a four-mile long "key link" connecting Oakland and San Francisco on the five-county rapid transit system.

Previous extensive engineering studies have shown that construction of the tube is feasible.

Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Tudor, Bechtel, consulting engineers for the rapid transit district, announced that they have retained the firm of Ben C. Gerwick, Inc., of San Francisco, to carry out the drilling project, which is expected to begin in early January from a barge anchored in the Bay.

United Electrodynamics, Inc., of Pasadena, has been hired to produce and install the nine permanent geophones on the bottom of the Bay.

The sensitive instruments will be placed in submerged holes at various depths throughout the underlying mud and rock strata. The depths will range from 175 to 250 feet below the water surface.

Seismic vibrations picked up by the underwater geophones will be transmitted by telephone cable to the San Francisco shoreline.

From there they will be relayed to special seismic recorders located in the office of the Bechtel Corporation at 101 California Street, one of the transit district's primary engineering consultants.

The seismic information will continue to be collected for approximately two years, or until construction of the proposed rapid transit tube has begun.

The $84-million transit tube will be constructed from prefabricated sections which have been floated out, submerged and reassembled at the tube site, according to present plans.

It will join the two principal underground subway portions of the rapid transit system to be located in downtown San Francisco and downtown Oakland.

Some $115-million for construction of the tube and its approaches already has been authorized by the California legislature, to be allocated from surplus auto tolls collected on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Actual work on the project, however, cannot get under way until after voters in the five-county transit district approve issuance of bonds for construction of the overall system.

Two prominent seismology experts, Dr. George W. Housner and Professor F. J. Converse, both of the California Institute of Technology, have been retained as special consultants to aid in construction planning for the tube project.

This will be the first time, according to transit district engineers, that such underwater seismology methods have been utilized in a construction project of this sort.

Subscriber Nets Added Bonus as Lucky Commuter

Mrs. Charles Yorba, 1092 Via Roble, will start the new year with an extra $10.

Mrs. Yorba is a Sun subscriber and was pictured as a Lucky Commuter in The Sun.

The prize for being selected a Lucky Commuter is $10 in cash if you are a subscriber or $5 in cash and a year's subscription to The Sun, a $3.75 value, if you are not a subscriber.

The game is fun and easy to play. Each week, The Sun's photographers roam through the central county taking pictures of commuters and each week a picture of a commuter is published in The Sun.

When the commuter comes into any of The Sun's business offices and identifies himself or herself, a $10 check will be turned over if it happens to be a Sun subscriber and if not there is a $5 check and a year's subscription to The Sun as a prize.

Who knows, the lucky commuter this week could be you.

Farm Bureau Meeting Called

Contra Costa Farm Bureau Women's officers, committee chairmen, group leaders and county home advisors will convene at 10 a.m., January 8, at Farm Bureau Hall, 5554 Clayton Road in Concord.

The Lafayette unit will be hostesses for the day with Mrs. Shirley Peakes as chairman. They will furnish the program and serve the luncheon.

Mrs. Paul Somerhalder of Knightsen, county chairman, will conduct the meeting. She and Mrs. L. M. Foard of Danville, as delegate and alternate to the recent Farm Bureau state convention, will give an account of Farm Bureau Women's participation in that event.

Mrs. Mary Ryan Williams, Contra Costa County home advisor, will give a forecast of 1960 home extension projects.

Mrs. Duncan H. Knudsen of Lafayette, speakers' chairman of the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County, will describe the work of that bureau.

Submariners Are Sought by Navy

Certain qualified submariners who have been discharged or released from active duty less than three years may reenlist in the rate held at the time of discharge, the Navy Recruiting Service announced today.

Shortages of qualified submariners exist in sonar, electronic, engineering, electrical and torpedoman's ratings as follows:

Cancer Society Has 25 Films

The American Cancer Society now has available for public showing more than 25 life-saving films in its free library.

Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, president of the society's Contra Costa County Branch, announced today.

Subjects range from light-hearted cartoons like "Sappy Homies," to documentary films showing cancer researchers at work in their laboratories.

Some films aim at specific targets, "Time and Two Women" and "Breast Self-Examination" tell women how they can protect themselves against the most common cancers of their sex—cancer of the uterus and cancer of the breast.

"The Warning Shadow" takes up lung cancer in men.

Shoplifters Net Fair Season in Pleasant Hill

Shoplifters had a good season in Pleasant Hill, but reports were few and scattered in the Alamo, Lafayette and Orinda areas, according to the Contra Costa Sheriff's Office.

Inspector Norman Wilson of the central county substation of the sheriff, informed The Sun that shoplifting reports in Pleasant Hill were equal to last year, but in the Lafayette-Orinda area they were down from last year.

College Outlines Enrollment Steps For New Students

Diablo Valley College, preparing to receive a heavy spring semester enrollment, had a special message for those planning on attending the college for the first time as full-time day students.

Starting Monday, the Office of Student Personnel will receive prospective new students who have four steps to complete before actual registration on January 28.

Of pre-registration steps, the most immediate are two: obtaining an appointment with a college counselor and arranging for a place at one of two personnel testing sessions to be given on registration day.

Appointments with counselors will be available on five days only, January 14, 15, and January 18, through January 20.

With the average interview extending to 45 minutes, careful scheduling is required and for this reason, candidates were advised to be at the Student Personnel Office either on January 4 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Other pre-registration steps can be taken at the same office, including arrangements to have transcripts of high school and prior college work placed on file and filling in admission forms.

Youth for Christ Will Be Held in WC Tomorrow

The first Youth for Christ rally of the New Year for Contra Costa County will be held tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, City Park.

"Decade of Destiny" will be the rally theme. In sort of a modified production, our American high schoolers will unfold their coming 10 years.

A SPECIAL feature for this rally will be Bill Barron. Bill will be playing his mandolin and singing, along with telling his life story. Racing motorcycles for many years, Bill has many interesting experiences that he will share with the audience along with a testimony of how Christ changed his life.

One hundred Contra Costa County high schoolers will tell of their experiences at one of the state's largest Christian Teen Conventions held each year between Christmas and New Year's at the Miramar Motel in beautiful Santa Barbara.

Over 1000 teenagers will be in Santa Barbara these three days learning YFC Club know-how and fellowship with teens from other areas and rallies. The special guests at this convention will be Dave Grant, Tony Fontana and Ralph Carmichael. This is labeled Miramar Echoes.

QUIZ TEAMS HAVE become a very important part of each YFC rally so another three High School quiz teams will be competing for top spot. Denny Johnson is the quiz master and you can count on intriguing action as the quiz gets under way.

Opening the rally will be the all colorful teenage choir under the direction of Dick Hamilton. They will be singing "Nothing Is Impossible."

ML, Diablo High School YFC Club will be the host for the evening and will have five minutes during the program to promote SPECIAL NEW YEAR'S decorations are being designed for the main auditorium by Judy Kramer, Kay and Maureen Diller and Betty Schenman. The staging will be appropriate to go along with the "Decade of Destiny" theme.

Master of ceremonies will be the Youth for Christ director, Wayne Zellmer.

Seats Remain for Oistrakh Concert

Some good seats are still available at Sherman Clay for David Oistrakh's first San Francisco recital, scheduled for the Opera House Friday evening, January 8, under the auspices of the California Civic Music and Arts Foundation.

With Vladimir Yampolsky at the piano, the celebrated Soviet violinist will offer Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata, Tartin's Sonata in G Minor, the "Mythes" by Szymanowski, the Sonata in G Minor by Karen Khachaturian and Ravel's Tzigane.

NO POWER WORRIES - Homemakers can add to their peace of mind by owning LP-Gas refrigerators. They need never worry about a power line break that will thaw frozen food and cause it to spoil. LP-Gas refrigerators do not depend on outside power; they'll operate in any kind of storm.

Dock workers in Bombay, India, earn only 15 cents to 32 cents a day, on which they must support families of 5 and 6 persons. Children of these dock workers are among the hungry people who help to feed by contributing to the CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market Street, San Francisco.

On The Lighter Side

By CAROL HODGES

What better place to be than HOME for the holidays! The Don Smiths (Peg) of Janet Lane, Lafayette, were thrilled as was their daughter Pat when she arrived by plane from Los Angeles Christmas eve.

A happy family reunion with Pat's cousin Mary Lou Girvin of Oakland, and Peg's sister Joan Engs, Mrs. Victor Palmer and Miss Angela Sarsfield, aunts from Bakersfield, and Pat Mealey, cousin, from Concord.

Mumps for the Holidays

And what could be worse for Christmas for the Russell Smiths (Bee Gee) of St. Mary's Estates, than several cases of MUMPS! Little Kathy was the first victim, then Jeff came down with them the BIG day, next in line was "Bee Gee" herself shortly after preparing a big dinner for the WHOLE family... Little Denny is keeping his fingers crossed!

Don and Fran Ford of Lafayette were SO happy to see their old friends Jim and Laydee Larsen from Utah, who had previously lived in Sun Valley and entertained them for a week prior to Christmas.

The Fords, including Debbie, Donna, Mike, Mark and Don's mother, feasted on the 25th at the home of Mrs. John McIntyre of Concord.

Merv and Norma Ortez of Walnut Drive, Lafayette, had their usual Christmas eve ritual at home and dined the following day with Norma's sisters, Beatrice Muir from Sacramento and Eleanor Haller, Lafayette, and the senior Ortez's from Berkeley.

A surprise and most welcome gift presented to Merv and Norma were four new tires for their car. How about THAT? They are now planning for New Year's eve and will have a full house of cousins (six couples in all) who get together annually to celebrate.

Parties, Here, There, Everywhere

The Jack Wilsons, also of Walnut Drive, held their yearly Christmas cocktail party, inviting the neighbors in and a LARGE and lovely champagne party hosted by the Delbert Andersons of Walnut Creek for friends in the Walnut Knolls area.

The Dean Holdens of Lafayette reversed the procedure this year and fried ham and eggs for thirty! Bet those frying pans were busy! A delightful brunch affair.

Paul and Dorris Day of Lafayette decided to take up the "please drop in over the holidays" invitations with gifts of the most delicious candied walnuts in hand and ended up with an impromptu "turkey sandwich" party at their home which lasted WAY into the night.

The following day they were present at the Gene Arena's cocktail party and other guests included the Joe Arrigos, Dick Reeds, Dr. and Mrs. Bill Shepard, the Dan Arenas and Evert Hodges, all of Lafayette.

Teens Partygo Too

Another spur-of-the-moment party staged by Brenda Hodges of Lafayette for her teen-age friends included Jackie La France, Barry Madrid, Al Aristen of Lafayette, Carol Wilson of Moraga, Pat Doran of Concord, Doyle Turner, Stan Roberti and Dave Jonas from Walnut Creek, and Dave's cousin who is visiting from Grass Valley.

The Sam Masons of Walnut Creek and their three boys, Michael, Brett and Todd, spent five WONDERFUL days at the home of Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hill, in Palos Verdes Estates in Southern California. Her brother David Hill and his charming wife Beverly, who have been living in Venezuela for two years, visited the Masons prior to Christmas and enjoyed a WHIRL of parties before they took off for the south.

Joining them at Palos Verdes are an aunt and uncle from New York whom they have not seen for eight years.

Orinda Branch AAUW

The Claremont Hotel in Berkeley was the setting for the Orinda Branch of the American Association of University Women's Christmas party held in the Pink and Alameda rooms, which by the way, were decorated BEAUTIFULLY!

Modern Christmas decor, with dried arrangements done in the shape of birds; and an OUTSTANDING tapestry made of burlap and brightly colored yarn of the three wise men.

Connie Goldeen was chairman, Dorothy Stack was responsible for the decorations, Maryann Solberg, reservations and assisting were Harriet Grigsby, Jean Meteer from Orinda, and Mary Jacuzzi of Lafayette.

Another FUN party was one held at the Orinda home of Robert Rawson of the Inland Valley Improvement Association and Kim and Marge Kimbrough of Cordelia Way in Walnut Creek opened their doors to friends recently as well as Dick and Jean Kellogg of Carl Court and Del and Virginia Perkins of Miller Drive, Lafayette. Jack and Elizabeth Pingree entertained Elizabeth's family at a Christmas party in their Lafayette home.

Full Rumpus Room

The Robert Simpsons of Carlos Court, Walnut Creek, will welcome the new year in with a BANG and a full rumpus room with the Wayne Barretts, Ted Merrills, Dick Kelloggs, Robert Millers, Fred Cochrans, Robert Summers, John Aucotts and the Stanley Ekstroms as their guests.

Gil Young of Concord is carrying around a secret at least as far as the Howard Richmans and the M. F. Ohmans of Concord, the Robert Underhills of Lafayette and Judge and Mrs. Michael Gattos of Pittsburg are concerned.

The Youngs recently celebrated Gil's birthday (which one, is the secret) by entertaining their guests at the On Lock Sam Cafe in Stockton where a Chinese feast consisting of the most UNUSUAL delicacies was served.

Stamp Lovers Stampede During 'Pickin' Party'

Unusually well-mannered and calm are the 65 members of the Diablo Valley Stamp Club—but when it's time for a "pickin' party," look out!

A "pickin' party" bears little resemblance to the quiet, studious examination of stamp collections and individual collectors' items which is the heart and soul of most of the year-old club's meetings.

The host of the "pickin' party" walks to the center of the room and dumps something like 10,000 stamps of all sizes, countries and values on the table.

THEN THERE is a mad rush to the table and hands, holding tweezers, move with lightning rapidity sorting and arranging. Each stamp can be had for one penny. It is a wise stamp collector who knows when he or she is getting a bargain.

Joe Field of Orinda, retiring vice president, brought his load of stamps for the "pickin' party" recently. And other such free-for-alls are planned in the future to vary the club's routine.

Mrs. Helen Ford, a member, said, "Our motto is 'Let's Trade Stamps,' and that is what we do, but we like to have a program once a month. A while back, Walnut Creek Postmaster Larry Bornholtz showed a film on the manufacture of stamps.

Each member has his own stamp collection. I have mine in a shoe box, but most of them have them in albums. I just never seem to get around to that.

AND THE ALBUMS follow different topics, like commemorative, British Colonies, Germany, United Nations, and so forth. "You should see Giacomo Venturino's complete Vatican set. And there are some other fine collections," she said.

The stamp club meets every second and fourth Thursday of the month. New officers are Jack Buffington, of 8 Elliott Drive, Pleasant Hill, president; William Woodnut of 711 Glenside Circle, Lafayette, vice president; Mr. and Mrs. John Pacey of 393 Hermosa Court, Lafayette, treasurers.

Officers last year were William Thaler of Lafayette, president; Field, vice president; Marge Dudley, secretary. Walt Mayer will continue as auctioneer.

The Christian custom of reckoning time from the birth of Christ was introduced in the 500's by a monk named Dionysius Exiguus. But World Book Encyclopedia reports that the monk made a mistake of four to six years. Scholars now believe Christ was born in 4 B.C. or 6 B.C.

Special Bus Service for SF Symphony

With the San Francisco Symphony embarked upon another successful season, plans are now being announced for the "Behind the Hills" series with special bus transportation for music lovers in Contra Costa County.

The four Symphony concerts included in the series will be held on Feb. 5 when Segovia, the guitarist, will be guest artist; March 4 with Bolet, pianist, the orchestra's guest with Jordá conducting; on April 1 when Haitink, renowned conductor from Amsterdam, will be the guest conductor, and concluding the series on May 27, the Symphony will play the Beethoven Ninth.

The chartered bus service will start at Walnut Creek at 12:30 for the Opera House, with stops only at Lafayette and Orinda, returning directly after the concert.

The "Behind the Hills" series was offered for the first time last spring and met with such an outstanding reception that it has been decided to make it an annual event.

There will be two all-inclusive for orchestra seats and $14 for the balcony.

For those who think this might make an especially appreciated Christmas present, the San Francisco Symphony Association will mail a gift token upon receipt of a check and name of the recipient.

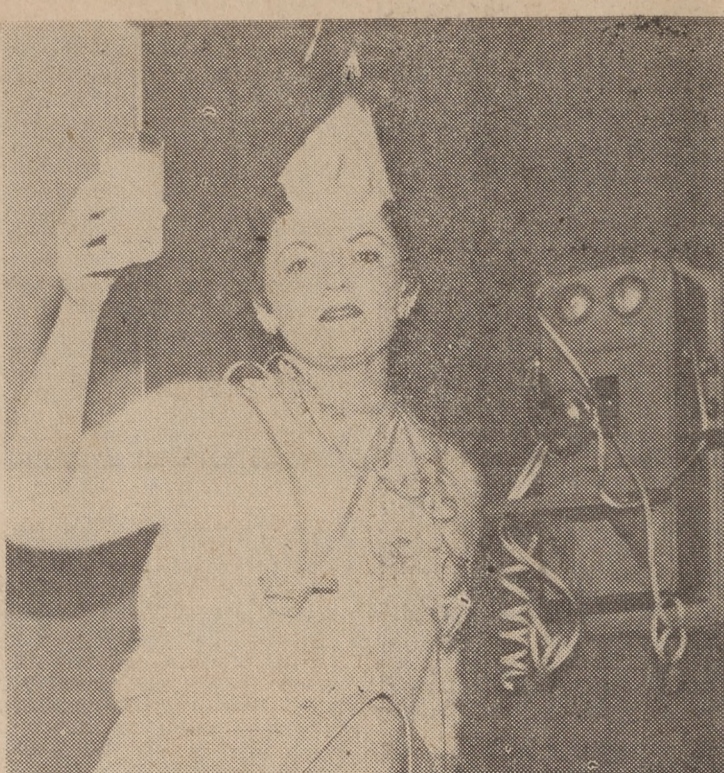

Announcements will be sent through the mail after the first of the year and persons wishing further information about the series may contact Mrs. Clifton Moore or Mrs. Stuart Campbell.

Net Valuation Up 6.6 Per Cent In County

The net valuation of taxable property in the nine Bay Area counties totaled $6,089,416,426 in 1959-60, a 7 per cent increase over the year before, according to figures released today by the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

Largest dollar value was in San Francisco with $1,391,454,204 or 22.9% of the Bay Area total, followed by Alameda with $1,364,254,024, the council's figures indicate.

In Contra Costa County, net valuation of taxable property in 1958-59 was $741,457,115, compared with $790,746,625 in 1959-60, an increase of 6.6 per cent.

Audubons to Count Birds On Sunday

Mt. Diablo Audubon Society members will participate in an annual national bird count, Sunday, Lynn Farrar is local chairman.

The "counters" will rendezvous at the Monument, Pleasant Hill, at 7 a.m. and will form groups under the guidance of expert birders. They will scout the areas from the Briones hills, the outskirts of Pittsburg, Mt. Diablo and Lafayette.

The bird count will continue until 3 p.m. The members will gather again at the Farrar home, 955 Diablo Drive, Lafayette, for pot-luck supper at 6:30 and a tabulation of kinds of birds seen and approximate number of each variety seen.

This information will go to National Audubon Society headquarters.

The regular meeting of the Society will be held Thursday at Las Lomas High School.

Harry Couden has secured Audubon slides of the birds to be seen in the Tomales Bay area.

Harry Adamson will be commentator.

On January 10 the bird-watchers will meet at the parking lot in Inverness at 9:30 a.m. and proceed in caravan fashion to McClure Beach.

After lunch the party will visit the Tomales Bay State Park.

Human Habits, Cancer Reports Are Now Due

Local residents who are participating in the American Cancer Society's study of the relationship of human living habits to cancer and have not yet returned their questionnaire were asked to get them in as soon as possible.

Mrs. John Selley of Walnut Creek, chairman of Contra Costa's county wide survey effort, said the mass study is now in its final stages here, with the bulk of the questionnaires already handed in.

The survey, which is being conducted in half a million American homes over a six year period, has involved the participation of 2100 families in Contra Costa county.

Survey participants have been filling out lengthy questionnaires and returning them in sealed envelopes for forwarding to American Cancer Society offices in New York where they will be tabulated and analyzed with the aid of electronic equipment.

Each year for the next six years a follow-up check will be made by American Cancer Society volunteers. In alternate years supplementary questionnaires will be filled out.

Persons wishing further information about participation in the study are asked to call chairman Mrs. Selley or the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Social Security Tax Rate Hike Starts Jan. 1

"Remember, there will be an increase in your social security tax next year," stated Morgan J. Shea, manager of the Berkeley social security district office today in discussing the financing of the social security program.

Beginning tomorrow, the social security contribution rate will be three per cent each for wage earners and their employers, and four and one-half per cent for the self-employed.

These rates will apply to the first $4800 of earnings. The district manager pointed out that the present rates of two and one-half per cent each for the wage earners and employers and three and three-fourths per cent for the self-employed will be effective through today.

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provides protection for most Americans against the hazards of retirement, disability, and death. Today over 13 million beneficiaries are receiving over $800 million each month in social security benefits, and the beneficiary rolls are increasing with each passing year.

Sheriff Promotes Two, Hires Two More Deputies

Sheriff Walter F. Young has hired two deputies and promoted two others in his continuing reorganization of the department.

Deputy Kenneth J. Spotts has been promoted to sergeant to replace Steve Rossi, who recently was named a lieutenant.

Spotts, a former member of the Oakland Police Department and a deputy since 1948, lives in El Sobrante.

Louis P. Price has been promoted from communications clerk to deputy sheriff. He lives in Richmond.

John A. Montgomery, a patrolman with the Hayward Police Department, was hired as a top grade deputy. He will join the department December 28 and replace William J. Walsh who was appointed earlier as a detective.

Young also hired as a deputy William E. Blackard of Concord.

We're Over the Hump... Now Let's Plan Ahead!

By BILL HAYWARD

NOW THAT WE ARE ALL OVER THE CHRISTMAS "HUMP" . . . it's about time to start planning for a busy 1960.

From all reports 1960 should be the most blooming, bustling, and bustling year so far in our history, or in fact California History.

Housing and Construction, Real Estate and the Mortgage market all look ahead to the 1,200,000 new homes in 1960 . . . this is the national "GUESTIMATE" . . . local builders are all confident about the coming year with many new subdivisions on the drawing boards.

The weather has been a big factor during the tag end of 1959 . . . no lag in construction caused by the early rains . . . building goes on the year round however efficiency drops in the soggy, muddy, wet days of mid-winter.

Highway construction in Contra Costa County on the Free-way level is far ahead of schedule . . . the short storm before Christmas just provided most construction workers with a badly needed holiday and time to shop before Christmas Eve . . . all in all 1960 will be a whopper.

Competition for the buyers' dollar will be keen, sharp and forceful . . . Merchants that are not service minded . . . mindful of the proper way to treat a customer to KEEP THEM AS STEADY CUSTOMERS . . . may as well toss in his towel right now . . . people have long tired of being treated like cattle.

Shoppers are very choosy . . . particular . . . demand the courtesy and tender handling of today's service minded merchants . . . People will remember being treated like friends . . . not customers. Get on the "SERVICE BALL" for 1960 and be there with the smile and enthusiasm of a trained and experienced salesman.

WITH THE MERGER . . . of American Trust and Wells Fargo Banks . . . Wells Fargo's plans to build on the corner of Duncan and Main in Walnut Creek went out the well known window. In fact their temporary plans to occupy the old First Savings corner . . . they blew too . . . even after tearing a huge hole into the rear of the building to use a part of the new Staten Building to the east.

This is a busy block . . . as you know the Bank of America Building is also For Sale $85,000—including the huge vault. It would make a beautiful city jailhouse . . . and cheap . . . but no off-street parking is included . . . otherwise this would be a "steal."

Bank of America as you know will soon build a fresh, brand new BANK south of the existing

A 'New' Feature Comes to Sun Readers Weekly

Sun readers will find a new feature in this issue—a feature which will appear each week from this date.

The feature — which really isn't new to The Sun — is Bill Hayward's real estate column, "Real Estate Viewpoints."

Bill Hayward, who started his writing career with a real estate column in The Sun several years ago, is the president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board and has been serving the industry in Central Contra Costa County for the past 13 years.

The Sun welcomes Bill back, and the staff feels that Sun readers will find this additional column of topical interest.

location at the corner of Main and Mt. Diablo Boulevard opposite the new and beautiful stone and steel structure of First Savings and Loan.

Incidentally . . . with the increase in Real Estate Conventional Loan interest rates to 7 per cent and up . . . such Savings and Loan associations . . . as Berkeley Savings . . . First Savings and others on the local picture . . . all upped their savings account interest rates to 4½ per cent . . . WOW . . . where does it end?

MORTGAGE AND MONEY MERCHANT . . . Lloyd King and Associates . . . Andy Anderson and Al Hartman, known as THE LANCE COMPANY . . . will move a few steps east to their new headquarters early in February . . . or if the builder will get off the DIME . . . sooner . . . 1704 will be the new address on BONANZA STREET same location as COMMERCIAL PROPERTY EXPERTS. KING PARKER and Associates, Don Johnson, Charlie Rodier and Lloyd Holton address 1700 BONANZA. Housewarming will be in February sometime.

SHIFT INTO SECOND

It is far better driving to shift into second when climbing a hill than to strain the car by remaining in high, points out the National Automobile Club.

The dairy cow is the originator of the eight-hour day. She grazes 8 hours, chews her cud 8 hours, rests and manufacturers milk 8 hours. However, she works a split shift—4 hours grazing, 4 hours cud chewing, 4 hours manufacturing, then she is milked and starts all over again.

Soss Opples Polishes His Crystal Ball For 1960

By SOSS OPPLER

It's predicting time again and with the 1960 year just here it's a long look ahead, but let's see what we can come up with. By "we" I mean me and my crystal ball.

In the prep field the basketball and wrestling league seasons lie just ahead.

IN THE FOOTHILL Division I find a tight hoop race with Acalanes edging Las Lomas in a race far closer than most expected. Defense and experience will pay off for the Don varsity.

In the Bee race take Las Lomas, which looks to be the class of the circuit. Miramonte, coming fast, will take third in varsity play with Piedmont fourth and San Ramon fifth.

In wrestling take Miramonte as the winner of dual meet competition with Acalanes second, Las Lomas third and San Ramon fourth. The Dons, in the building stage, will come strong to win the divisional title with the meet being held at Miramonte on February 6.

IN THE CONTRA COSTA Division, Clayton Valley edges Pittsburg for the title with Diablo third, Pleasant Hill fourth, Antioch fifth and Pacifica sixth. Pitt takes the Bee's crown.

In wrestling, Pleasant Hill wins the dual meet and division crown to be followed by Diablo, Pittsburg, Clayton Valley, Antioch and Pacifica.

In baseball in the Contra Costa Division it will be a three-way race between Acalanes, Las Lomas and Miramonte.

THE DONS HAVE PITCHING depth and this could be the deciding factor. Pick the Dons with Las Lomas and Miramonte tied for fourth, while San Ramon ends up fourth and Piedmont once again in the cellar, handicapped as they are without even a practice field of their own.

In track take the Dons to win the varsity title with Piedmont taking the Bee crown. Next in order will be Piedmont, Miramonte, San Ramon and Las Lomas.

The Dons are loaded in varsity track this year and Coach Eaton's charges will be out to upset Piedmont who tapped the field in '59.

TENNIS FINDS ACALANES the winner with a veteran team back plus a foreign exchange student in Charley Trippie who rates internationally.

Miramonte will be second, Piedmont third, Las Lomas fourth and San Ramon last.

In golf pick Miramonte, Acalanes, Piedmont, Las Lomas and San Ramon in that order.

Swimming finds Las Lomas well out in front with Miramonte second, Acalanes third, San Ramon fourth and Piedmont making a token appearance.

IN THE CONTRA COSTA Division here is the call on spring sports besides basketball and wrestling.

Baseball: Diablo won last year and repeats with Clayton Valley second, Antioch third, Pittsburg fourth, Pleasant Hill fifth and Pacifica sixth. Diablo has too much here for the rest of the circuit. Too much pitching, too much hitting and too much fielding.

Swimming: Pleasant Hill wins here with Diablo second, Clayton Valley third, Antioch fourth, Pittsburg fifth, and Pacifica sixth.

IN GOLF IT'S ANTIOCH, Pleasant Hill, Pittsburg, Diablo, Clayton Valley and Pacifica in that order.

Track: Clayton Valley, Diablo, Pittsburg, Pleasant Hill, Antioch and Pacifica wind up in that order.

Tennis: Pleasant Hill gets new courts and with them wins the championship followed by Diablo, Clayton Valley, Antioch, Pittsburg and Pacifica.

FOOTBALL COMES NEXT fall but it's still 1960 so here goes for a long range shot.

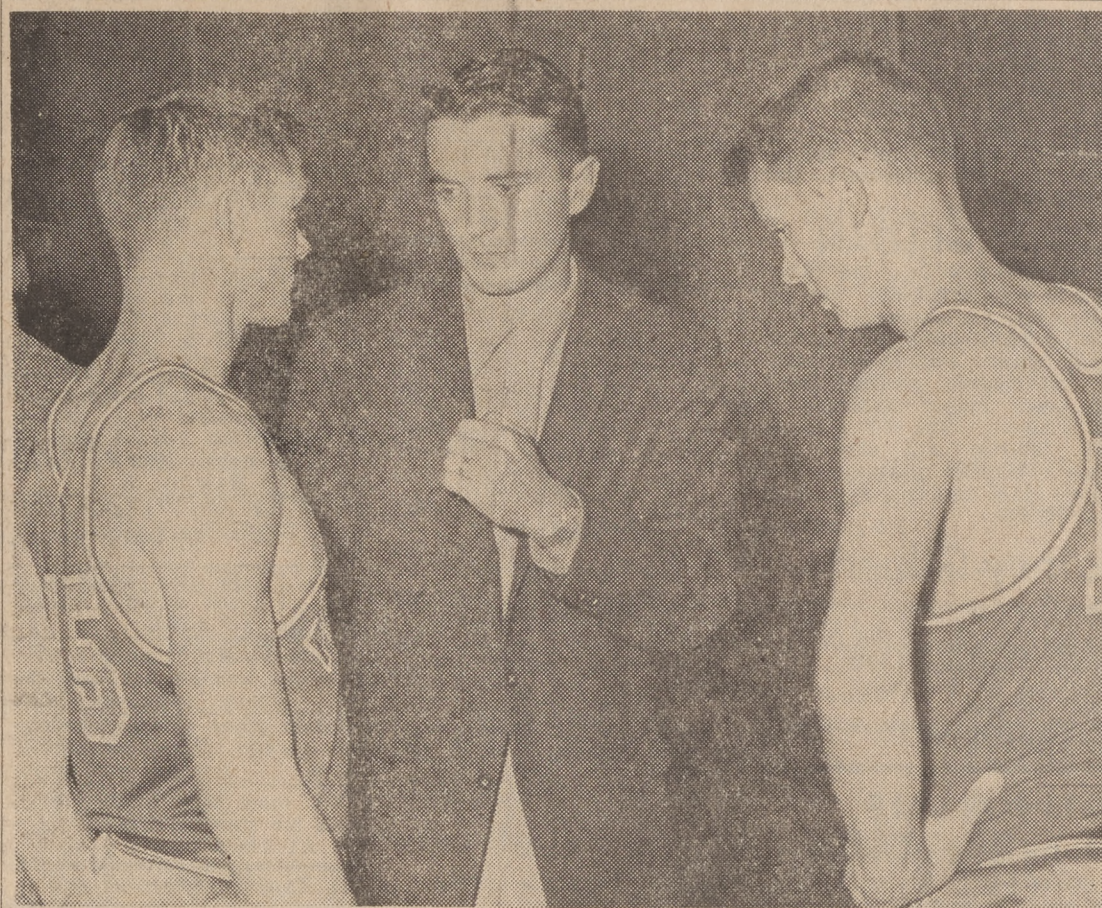

Foothill Division: Piedmont looks to be loaded, especially after winning this year, but will receive plenty of opposition from Acalanes and Las Lomas. Picked in order, it's Piedmont to repeat with Acalanes and Las Lomas tied for the runner-up spot, San Ramon fourth and Miramonte fifth.

Contra Costa Division: This should find Pittsburg bouncing back, Clayton Valley second, Diablo third, Antioch fourth, Pleasant Hill fifth and Pacifica again in the deep dark cellar.

The Pleasant Hill Rams naturally lose heavily by graduation this year but the new high school in the Pacedo area cuts into them as they open next fall. That's it.

Cope Leads Highlanders

Bob Cope, the coach of Piedmont High's basketball team, is a young man who looks almost as if he could get in a suit and play for the team.

One thing certain is that if he did, the opposition would have plenty to "cope" with, in view of his background in the hoop game.

HE IS ONE of those coaches who is cool at all times and always appears to have things pretty well in hand.

Bob started his athletics in high school at Missoula County High School in Missoula, Montana. It was here that he was a standout in track, holding the interscholastic javelin record, as well as starring in basketball and baseball.

When college time came, he entered Montana State and there lettered in basketball, baseball and track. In basketball he was a standout to the extent that he was honored when he received the Helms All-American award in 1949.

GRADUATION FROM college found him on a three-year tour of duty with the Air Force. He wound up in charge of the athletic section of the Air Force Base at Long Island, New York.

It was here that fate stepped in when a sporting goods salesman introduced him to a pretty young miss with the attractive name of Renate Butler, who was a girls' physical education teacher at a Long Island high school.

In 1953 she became Mrs. Robert Cope, and at present they reside at 143 Canyon Drive, Orinda, with their daughter, Edith, age 2.

FOLLOWING HIS release from the service, Bob coached in a new high school, called by an old Indian name, Syosset, in Long Island.

From there he came to Piedmont High School in 1958, where in addition to coaching basketball, he instructs a course in aerobics and general science, along with counseling and guidance work.

Colorful basketball teams have shown evidence of his fine coaching and background as they have given a good account of themselves. He came to the Piedmont school when the hoop game was at a low ebb and he has definitely had a building job.

HE LAID A GOOD foundation in 1958 and it's beginning to pay off as the team has come up with their best practice season in many a moon.

One thing certain, he has made the most of the material on hand, and it will be equally certain that no one will look upon Piedmont as a "soft touch."

Free X-Rays Are Available

Free chest X-rays will be available to residents of the Walnut Creek area, 15 years and over, on January 8.

The X-ray unit will be located at 1400 Broadway in the Broadway Shopping Center, and will be open to the general public from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Foodhandlers may obtain chest X-rays to fulfill the requirements for their individual health permits.

Free chest X-rays are provided by the County Health Department as a part of its tuberculosis control program.

Successful '59 Deer Season Is 'Game Story of Year'

The 1959 deer season dramatically capped a highly successful wildlife year, with no species in difficulty as we enter 1960, Fish and Game Director William E. Warne stated today.

The deer season just concluded went on the books as the second best on record, with a statewide kill of 73,483 bucks.

Vying with deer for "story of the year" honors was the Department's successful civil suit against Stauffer Chemical Co. in which a jury on December 4 awarded the State $13,369 plus court costs for striped bass lost in the May 1957 fish kill off the company's Richmond, Contra Costa County, plant.

The verdict was hailed as a major victory in the fight against pollution in San Francisco Bay. On the policy level, a key story of the year was the Governor Brown's adoption of the Warne Five-Year Wildlife Conservation Plan which the Governor described as "a bold, new effort to meet the growing needs of our great and growing state."

The plan listed 19 major subjects which the Department will tackle in the next five years, including increased activity in water projects, pollution control, youth conservation education, anti-litter program, fish habitat improvement, salmon-steelhead conservation, sea lion research, hunting on private lands, and introduction of exotic game birds.

A long standing controversy was brought to a head during the year when the Wildlife Conservation Board approved on September 24 the request of Solano County Board of Supervisors for an additional allocation of wildlife funds to proceed with construction of an access bridge across Montezuma Slough to Grizzly Island waterfowl management area.

By October, California party boat fishermen already had landed more barracuda than in any previous year, and were expected to catch a million by the end of 1959. The 1958 alltime record was 782,723 barracuda landed.

Taking off on a major step in the Warne Five-Year Wildlife Conservation Plan, Director Warne in November called for a "bill of rights" to assure development of the state's remaining renewable natural resources with consideration for the requirements of fish and wildlife and recreation.

Other milestones through the year:

• The king salmon, which pulled a disappearing act the previous year, showed signs of returning to California this year to its ancestral spawning grounds.

• Two scrappy sport fish, the Walleye from Minnesota, and a hefty strain of Largemouth Bass, from Florida, were introduced into Southern California waters to improve warmwater angling.

• Ground was broken August 6 on a $238,000 Wildlife Conservation Board anglers' access project at Nachmito Reservoir in San Luis Obispo County.

• The Department's deer management program got solid support from the 1959 deer season when the counties showing the highest kill in '59 were the very counties where opponents of antlerless hunts said the herds were annihilated in 1956.

Past Year's Sport Action Reviewed by Sun Scribe

By ERWIN MATTSON

The past year in prep sports has brought its share of thrills. The year 1959 found some teams running true to form while others came through as surprise clubs.

In the spring of 1959 the Acalanes wrestling team went undefeated in dual league meets, won the divisional title and then topped the field in the league meet held at Pleasant Hill.

THE BASKETBALL RACE was one of the best in the first year of the Foothill Division, with Acalanes, Las Lomas and Miramonte ending up in a three-way tie.

A playoff to determine the representative to the Tournament of Champions found Las Lomas defeating Miramonte and Acalanes topping Las Lomas in turn.

That put the Dons in the tournament and Coach Dan Glines' charges played long-up ball as they reached their peak to win their way to the finals where they lost out to a fabulous McClouds High five.

They did bring home the second place award—the best any local team has ever done.

TRACK IN THE spring found Piedmont High taking top honors to make their first championship in the Foothill Division with the venerable Brick Johnson doing the coaching.

In baseball Acalanes hit the jackpot after dropping their first league game and then winning the rest of the way.

Swimming honors, as has become a custom, went to Las Lomas with Coach Ed Leach producing record breakers in the process. Acalanes, Piedmont and Miramonte tied for the tennis title while San Ramon and Acalanes tied for the golf title.

IN FOOTBALL LAST FALL, Piedmont came through to take the title as they defeated Las Lomas in the final game after the Knights had defeated Acalanes, and the Dons in turn had played a 20-20 tie with Piedmont.

In junior varsity play Las Lomas was undefeated while the same went for the Acalanes Frosh.

In the Contra Costa Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League, Pleasant Hill, with George Galli as head man, copped the circuit's wrestling title as well as the divisional meet while ending up second to Acalanes in the league.

MT. DIABLO COPPED the baseball title with a team rated as their best ever by many.

Diablo put on a come-through performance to take the grid title this fall, doing it on all-around team play without individual stars. Pleasant Hill won the golf title while in track Pittsburg was tops. Pleasant Hill won the golf crown to round out a good spring season, while Diablo won in tennis.

WHEN WHEELS CREAK

Do the wheels creak when your car turns a corner? It may be a loose bolt, points out the National Automobile Club. Loose bolts, permitting the wheel to wobble, cause one of the most rapid forms of tire wear.

Special Attention Planned For All 'Drinking Drivers'

Drinking drivers will receive special law enforcement attention during the forthcoming holidays, according to plans announced today in Sacramento by the California Highway Patrol and the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden and ABC Director Thomas W. Martin, joining in a two-pronged attack on the drinking driver problem, promise aggressive, professional enforcement action against all violators.

"Our agents will again work closely with the Highway Patrol in a determined campaign to control the excessive drinking situation both on and off the highways," Martin declared. "Our cooperative enforcement efforts have brought favorable results in the past and I believe they will be effective again this year."

Crittenden noted that "all military and police agencies are being asked to join us in this effort during the holidays."

"We are looking forward to a broader and more effective program than ever before," he added. "We are supporting this program with an extensive public information campaign which we hope will reach every user of our streets and highways between now and New Year's Eve."

Christmas Leftovers . . .

The night before Christmas Eve & a crush of a caravan of cars in a TERRIBLE Tunnel traffic tie-up . . . It was either wait or try to ease out & over the back road from Berkeley where uphill & then down from Grizzly Peak it was like Blind Man leading Blind. Couldn't see a foot in front of you for the fog. So if Husband arrived home, tired & temper-frayed, we hope he is forgiven by now in the Merry Upset & Turmoil that comes out finally a relaxed & quiet Christmas.

Last-minute shoppers around town as late as five . . . The dime store cleaned out in spots . . . Pat Borbridge bouncing out of the Pixie Shop . . . Gertrude Worth bouncing IN for a few dividends. Bud Loughman & his dgtr. Rowie finding What They Needed in Phair's . . . The shelves at Das Matterhorn looking as bare as some of the ski slopes . . . A father carrying an Aquarium out of the pet shop & the Mynah Birds still cawing out "Hi, C'mon in" & wouldn't you think they'd at least try for "Merry Christmas!"

Martin White in a red shirt at Black's, a gay Matron & her Mister jingling home from a jaunt through the joints. Bobbie Lawrie in a short white pleated skirt. A little girl looking like Red Riding Hood taking her time (& the patient drugstore clerk's) w/a long difficult decision . . . Frances Lax in Orinda store abeam w/the news that her OTHER daughter (Pat Doten's sister) will arrive for the holidays & a permanent move here from Pasadena.

PARTIES, Parties EVERYWHERE . . . Guests galore, huge wheels & slabs of varied cheeses, buffet breads & a barrel of dark beer made the Open House a bit different hosted by Gwyneth & Jerry Donchin . . . Someone told us how novel was the party given by the George Dodges at their Camino Sobrante house where both She & HE were in their host & hostess places at the door to welcome guests w/a sincere greeting of Merry Christmas.

SO many parties, it seems, where it takes an hr. before you locate you host — or even someone else you know!

They Went Caroling on a Hay Wagon

The James Dupuis entertained at their Sleepy Hollow home on Sunday, ditto the Ray Hudacheks. Saturday night the Mark Seavers called their neighbors in for a Toast. Bill Marshall sat down & played the organ at each of the small dinner parties he & Kay have given during the holidays. And before we forget, Santa Claus left several surprise gifts of jam & such in our mailbox for which we say Thank You. (No cards attached.)

Shades of Sleepy Hollow Legend, it wasn't a headless horseman, or even a headless horse, but it was a Pair of Horses that pulled the Hay Wagon through Sleepy Hollow for a Christmas Caroling party given by the Charles Becketts & their children a few nites before Christmas . . . Hostess Peggy greeted the arrivals, she bundled up in ski clothes, parka & pants & llama slippers as was one of the guests, Vivian Spaich, who joined in the Jingle Bells w/her Skip & Pam.

MORE along on the Merry Ride that took in Van Ripper & Lombardy slowly & sleigh-bellish, were Howard & Mo Libby & their moppets, the Don Texdahls & David & Jerry. The Hay Wagon, rent-tots . . . Many of the children were requested to invite a friend. ed from the Keeneys at Buckeye Ranch, top-heavy w/the younger The adults walked along w/the wagon, caroling w/the older children while the Elva Hutchinson played a portable organ for the musical accompaniment assisted by jr. host Bill & his younger brother & sister Bruce & Joy Beckett.

THE MORE THE MERRIER . . . were Dick & Joan Kendall w/their Chrissy & Rickie (who are now off for 2 wks. at Sun Valley) . . . Gail & Bill Hanford & their handfull — Hank, Steve & Alyson were along as were the Crete Baldwins w/youngsters Bruce, Kathy,

Linda St. Hill Is Stewardess

Miss Linda D. St. Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. St. Hill, 600 Tahos Road, has won the silver wings of a United Air Lines stewardess.

After 4½ weeks at the company's stewardess training school in Cheyenne, Wyoming, she now serves aboard Mainliners flying in and out of New York City.

Miss St. Hill is a graduate of Acalanes High School and attended Humboldt College and the University of California. She was a member of the ski club during her college career. Her hobbies are literature, skiing and sewing.

Cubs Give Books To Lynn School

Cub Pack 52 of Orinda had a combined Pack Meeting and Christmas party recently at Miramonte High School, attended also by the parents and brothers and sisters of the boys.

A Christmas tree, donated by the Explorer Scout's lot in the Village, was hung with ornaments made by the cubs.

Each boy also brought a gift-wrapped book, paid for by money he had earned, and these books along with the tree were given to the children attending The Lynn School in Danville.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were then served. George Duke, 3 Arroyo Drive, is the Cubmaster.

STAFF OF LIFE

The Greek word for bread is "psomi." Germans call it "brot." In Latin America, the Spanish word is "pan." But everywhere, it's the staff of life. And to millions of needy people it's the same as bread. CARE, which brings them flour to make into bread. You give bread to the hungry when you send a contribution to the CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market Street, San Francisco.

Brownie Troop Is Formally Invested

After many weeks of careful preparation, members of Brownie Troop 344 recently had their formal investiture and were able to don their hard-won uniforms for the first time.

The investiture was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Kessler, troop leader, under the direction of the assistant troop leaders, Mrs. Harry Clemons and Mrs. C. W. Bittner. Regular troop meetings are held each Monday from 2:30 to 3:45 p.m. at 89 Lombardy Lane.

MEMBERS OF THE newly-formed troop are Linda Furtado, Shelley Skaggs, Marilyn Schroeder, Lynn Robinson, Debbie Moser, Tina Moran, Brownyn McBane, Tina Kessler, Kitty Hammond, Suzette Hall, Beverly de Costa, Cathy Crandall, Carol Clemens, Lynn Campbell, Betty Ann Bothereau, Molly Bleuel and Carolyn Bittner.

Troop committee chairman is Mrs. Carl Schroeder, and troop committee members include the Mesdames George Hall, N. R. Bothereau, C. W. Robinson, Howard Crandall and Dwight Skaggs. In addition to preparing for the investiture and learning new songs and games, the girls made Christmas ornaments and next month will choose a service project and conduct a study of Girl Scout safety standards.

Leonardson Will Study in Germany For Six Months

Gene S. Leonardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Leonardson, 15 Olivas Drive, is among the 88 Stanford University students who left Tuesday for the university's study center in Germany.

The 36 women and 32 men, comprising the fourth and largest Stanford group to participate in the overseas plan, will spend the next six months at the Stanford branch campus 12 miles from Stuttgart, just outside the village of Beutelsbach on a 30-acre estate called Landgut Burg.

THEY WILL REPLACE 63 students who have studied at the self-governed auxiliary campus since last June. Classes begin Monday, and with the exception of a spring vacation will last through June 9.

The German campus offers Stanford undergraduate students, except freshmen, the opportunity to live, travel and study abroad for six months without interrupting the normal four-year progress toward a degree.

Courses which are enriched by a European setting—such as European culture and politics and intensive German—are selected from the regular Stanford curriculum.

Dairy cows give more milk when listening to waltzes and sweet music than to rock-and-roll music or military marches.

Roger & Lisa . . . Gene Nelson . . . Elva & Don Hutchinson bundled up for the Big Sing w/Barry & Holly, as did the Don Tibbitts, Tom Kamms, Dick Kilners & Ray Smiths.

MORE for the score of "Joy to the World" were the Les Harlanders w/Penny, George & Leslie, the Henry Wynnes from nearby, Ed & Jane Baker w/Gayle — the caroling culminating w/hot cocoa, egg nog & popcorn balls for the children at the Becketts' Van Ripper Lane home.

Lest Auld Acquaintances Be Forgotten!

OVER TO TILDEN & through the woods & down Shasta Rd. went many Orindans to the Bernard Wilkins' traditional Open House. The hostess, the former Gladys Schwatka of Orinda, was chided by her Irish father, James Burke for her partiality to a holiday dress of St. Patrick green.

Young Susan Schwatka, former Orinda Park Swim champ, held an armful of fetching French poodle pups much to everyone's delight . . . The Nathan Grays chatting w/the Bob & Robin Kroningers, he being congratulated on his judgship . . . Mary Gray was wearing a handsome new necklace w/an embossed picture of her son, one of the presents under HER tree . . . Gladys & Paul Vashell being introduced to the hostess' aunt and uncle, Helen and Vern Platt who since retiring recently have sold their Portland, Oregon home & purchased a new place in Lafayette. Helen Platt is a sister of Elizabeth Burke of Orinda.

Frank & Fran Newman were another twosome in the large crowd well-represented by Ray Area members of the legal profession.

ROLL OUT THE BARREL, they did, at the Jerry Donchins' new home high in the Orinda hills, for a Barrel of Fun Sunday night . . . Avram & Fran Yedidia among the guests making the party rounds, Fran's dress of red slipper satin. Comps, too, for the couturiere costume dress of beige wool, high-collared, on Marge Roth, she & her medic husband Len also on the Merrygoround of Open Houses.

Greetings for neighbors, the John Cheneys, the Leo Brewers, Bill & Susan McCarthy who told of filling FIVE stockings at their fireplace this year.

The hostess Gwyneth making introductions of more nearby neighbors, Carl & Rosie Wikereith, the Ed Richards, Charles & Edna Mullens among the more than 80 guests who gathered to inspect the new house designed by architect Wally Brooks who was there w/his attractive wife, blonde Jean Brooks, noted in the bay area for her mosaics . . . Rev. & Mrs. Corwin Calavan in the crowd.

A CEILING HIGH tree flocked w/snow & flecked w/snowballs . . . Under it & around it, Chris & Rod Thompson, Lois & Dick Broderick chatting w/painter Jonathan Bachelor. Gloria & Hal Winters over from Estates Dr., Len & Fran Malosky, the Walter Cooks & the George Carmels making the trip from Alamo, the Cooks full of talk on their recent tour of Europe.

The Burt Brodys w/HIS parents who are here for the holidays, Chris Swift of Lafayette & Alex & Carol King among those partaking of a buffet spread set w/wheels of assorted cheese, hot hors d'oeuvres & giant-sized pretzels to match the dark beer in the mammoth silver barrel.

CHRISTMAS CLOTHESLINE . . . Marge Love wearing a snow-white sportscar coat & hopping into a snowwhite sportscar.

TALK that Orinda music dept.'s Mr. Robert Luoma has made the singing of "The Twelve Days of Christmas" a regular & rousing & "Hooooold That Note" Christmas tradition at the School sings!

Norman & Evie Parker (she had a pre-holiday party for friends who came to view her handsome creations of candle arrangements) are due home for New Year's after a week in Las Vegas. The Joe Downses flew off to New York the Day After! The Fred Twinnings are yodeling in Yosemite.

An early Christmas package delivered Dec. 4 made Jane & Bill Courtright first-class Grandparents. The baby girl, born to dgtr. Pat & her husband, is named Linda.
